Walter P. Chrysler Memorial High School

New Castle, Indiana

Because We're Young...

. . . the eyes of the world are upon us. The day called Tomorrow is a page yet unturned in the lives we lead as teenagers. The adult world waits for the footsteps which will carry us beyond the doors of adolescence and down the path of the future to assume the roles of men and women.

. . . how could we ever forget our days at Chrysler High? We've laughed and cried, studied, and cheered the Trojans. . . . we've grown with our new school—as the builders added a new wing with bricks and mortar, we grew more proficient in English, Russian, math, and the sciences . . .

On that brisk October morning, New Castle witnessed the most gala parade our city has ever seen. Citizens and former graduates crowded the streets to view the long line of decorated floats.

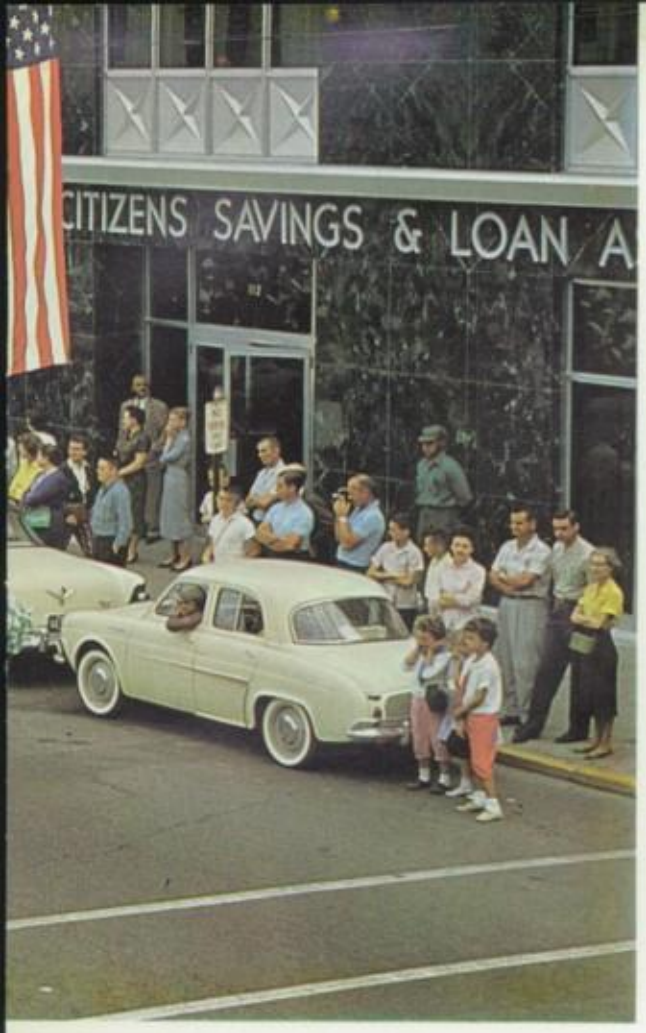
Homecoming 1960 — Our Success

Crepe paper used to decorate the goal posts disappeared rapidly as several souvenir-seeking students rushed to secure mementos of Chrysler High's first Homecoming.

All the planning and preparation that preceded Homecoming 1960, the first in NHS history, was well worth the efforts of our principal, Mr. Edgar B. Redman and his committees. The activities and events not only were well-organized and well-timed, but were equally well-received by alumni, faculty, students, and guests.

The general chairman of Homecoming activities was a member of our faculty, Mr. Jack Renner. Aiding him in arranging the biggest event in the history of New Castle were Jane Pfenninger, Jim Lee, and Joseph Chandler.

The grand finale was the dance in honor of the alumni. We are all proud to announce that Homecoming 1960 was truly our success story of the year.



Thirteen gaily decorated floats, a brilliantly uniformed band, and a beautiful queen and her court highlighted the first Homecoming parade.

Later at the football game, yell-leaders of the past and present led cheers during the warm, rainy October afternoon as our Trojans fought valiantly against the Marion Giants.

A clever half-time show, presented by our band to entertain both the Marion crowd and over 4,000 New Castle fans, was climaxed by the coronation of the first Homecoming Queen, Dee Wiles.

Story Of The Year

Mr. Howard Powell, 1889 graduate, was the oldest alumnus present.

Mayor Walter Falck crowned Dee Wiles as our first Homecoming Queen.

Over 2,000 people enjoyed barbecued chicken in the cafeteria.

"That's my little Honey Bun," sings Beth Hamm as John Sox entertains the would-be Marines in "South Pacific."

We were always in the midst of activities. During the summer we participated in our first Band Camp, Girls and Boys State, Journalism Institute at Indiana University, and made plans for our first Homecoming.

When classes resumed in September, we enthusiastically made school a full-time job. We worked hard at our studies, but always seemed to find time for the many extra-curricular activities.

In February, the 1961 Sectional Tourney brought basketball fans from the entire county together at our Fieldhouse, and the worst snow storm in years kept them there. For the first time in its history, the Henry County Sectional was postponed due to hazardous roads and blinding snow.

We Were Active — Even During

"This won't hurt — much." These are reassuring words to Betty Costello as she receives the Mantoux Tuberculin Test. A staff of doctors and nurses administered injections to all sophomores and seniors.

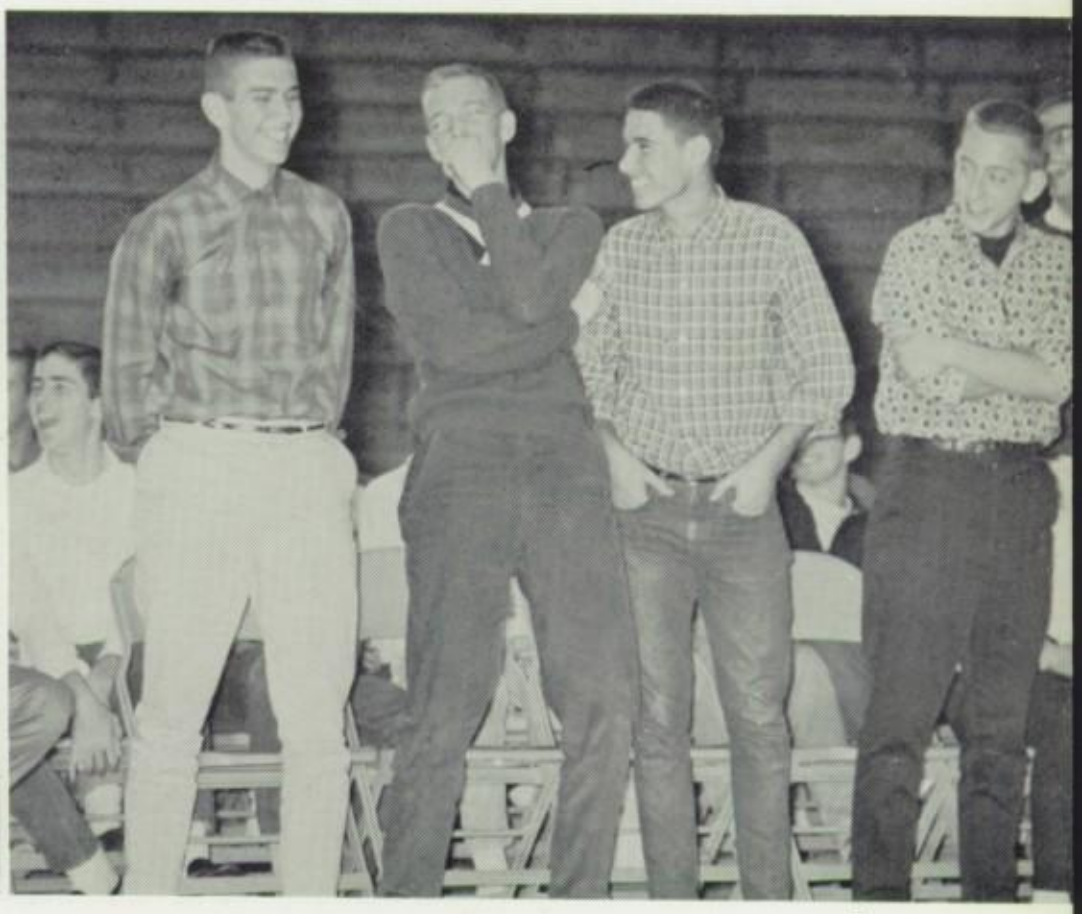
Ed Townsend, clad in the Trojan warrior armor, stands guard over our mighty Trojan team at every home game.

We admired the huge snow rabbit across from the school after the season's worst blizzard at Sectional time.

New Castle's Worst Blizzard

Mike Williams and Vin Couden leave the scene of the "good luck" signs they have written in the snow.

"The joke's on you, Doug Padgett." Jerry Beguhn, Mike Bales, and Terry Taylor seem to find it amusing.



Wearing her new cheerleading outfit, Julie Bradway anxiously awaits the referee's final decision.

With the rapid growth of the Chrysler High campus, the appearance of our school improved continuously. Along with this outside expansion, we saw many changes in the student body.

To cheer our Trojans on in victory or defeat were the six cheerleaders dressed in new uniforms similar to those worn by Big Ten universities.

For the first time in the history of our school, an intramural league was added for those boys who were interested in basketball but who did not play on the varsity or B-team squads.

We Soon Grew Accustomed To

Recess time came to Chrysler High, as the three rooms of sixth graders played outside our class room windows.

Overcrowded conditions at Hernly School sent one hundred members of the Class of 1967 to high school.

Competing players jump high for the ball as they work toward the Intramural Championship.

Intramural champions Don Vivian, Mike Williams, John Sloan, Dave Matherson, Ernest Hilderbrand, and Mike Fadely received ribbons from Mr. Lawson.

Many Changes

Mike Owens, Jim Shock, Mike Williams, Tim Preble, Marvin Lundy, Monte Johnson, Mike Marsh, and Vin Couden, individual captains of each team in the Intramural League, listen as Mr. Lawson, sponsor, explains the rules their teams must follow.

Lunch hour is a time to meet friends, talk over activities, and perhaps plan an after-school get-together.

Our Spirit Of Friendliness

Ed Townsend's supper for the football boys was a real hit with Dave Luttrell, Phil McBride, Bill Baker, Garvie Piercy, Mike Williams, Doug Redelman, and Richard Byrd.

"Go, Fight, Win," Judy Turner and Sam Taylor put the finishing touches on one of the many pep signs which lined the halls before each basketball and football game.

Rain outside did not dampen our spirits as we eagerly took part in the annual competitive events at Spring Fling.

Our first after-summer get-together was the annual Watermelon Feed held in the Baker Park Pavilion.

Was Contagious

We all looked forward to the events that were scheduled on the school calendar each week. Games, dances, conferences, and club meetings composed a very busy week for everyone. Whether it was a Bible Club cookie sale or Prom, nearly all of us made plans to attend.

There seemed to be a new air of friendliness in the halls and on the campus at Chrysler High this year. Once given the idea that we should try to get along as "one big, happy family," we tried it, and it worked. With this feeling of being extra-friendly to everyone, came a new understanding of our school motto—"Not for school, But for life."

Even College Conference Night had its lighter moments. Dave Luttrell and his mother are served refreshments by Mrs. H. Boyd Williams after learning about entrance requirements.

Marlin Evans and Freida Becker receive scores on their College Board examinations from Miss Rentchler.

The importance of good study techniques is stressed to Frank Walls by Miss Lees, reading director.

We Learned To

Reviewing for major examinations, striving to solve difficult trig problems, and just plain day-dreaming are common practices for most of us in study hall.

We had our serious moments . . . hours of them every school day. We realized the importance of making the most of our educational opportunities. Our tense world situation required expanded knowledge in the fields of science, mathematics, and world affairs. Increased competition in colleges and careers also meant that we must place more emphasis on studies.

We found ourselves often discussing the confusion, changes, and outlooks of our world, but spent most of our time with routine class assignments. Although we sometimes dreaded these assignments, we always felt a sense of pride and accomplishment when the tasks were successfully behind us.

Dorothy Haynes uses the card catalogue in the library for help in locating an interesting book.

Use Our Study Time Wisely

Toward the end of each grading period, many of us spent long evenings at the public library preparing for major exams and scanning the shelves for books to complete research papers.

Brains And Brawn Do Mix —

Outstanding speech students, Janice Hall and Chuck Redman, discuss the proposals they will suggest at the Governor's Youth Conference in Indianapolis.

Seniors Vin Couden, Carolyn Haynes, Nancy Adams, and Susan Bolinger were recognized as outstanding citizens during National Youth Week.

In our daily lives at C.H.S., we were aware that the eyes of the community were upon us. As some of us were named Junior Rotarians, outstanding students during National Youth Week, or recipients of Honor Day awards or scholarships, we recognized the pride that was placed in our success.

Although some of us received more awards than others, we all felt their support and tried to exhibit good citizenship and sportsmanship.

Dark green blazers with gold and white honor crests were seen in the halls of Chrysler High and in the community this year, as students with outstanding scholastic records proudly wore their symbols of achievement.

We held our first Achievement Day in September to honor our top five seniors and other members of the junior and senior class who had high rankings.

Before the convocation, we looked at display windows filled with individual pictures of the honored students. All this proved to be an incentive for those of us who sometimes put activities ahead of our studies.

All eyes are watching the United States as it attempts to prove that the forces of freedom and democracy can triumph over communism and dictatorship throughout the world.

As we studied the social and economic problems of today, we realized the growing need for knowledge of customs and language of people all over the world. For the first time, we were given the opportunity to study Russian in our new electronics lab.

As teenagers and Chrysler High students, we felt more and more independence as we were permitted to make many of our own decisions.

Besides the required courses—English, history, mathematics, science, and government—we were free to decide the plan of study we would follow.

We were ranked among the top schools in the state for facilities, and we chose from nine different academic and cultural curriculums.

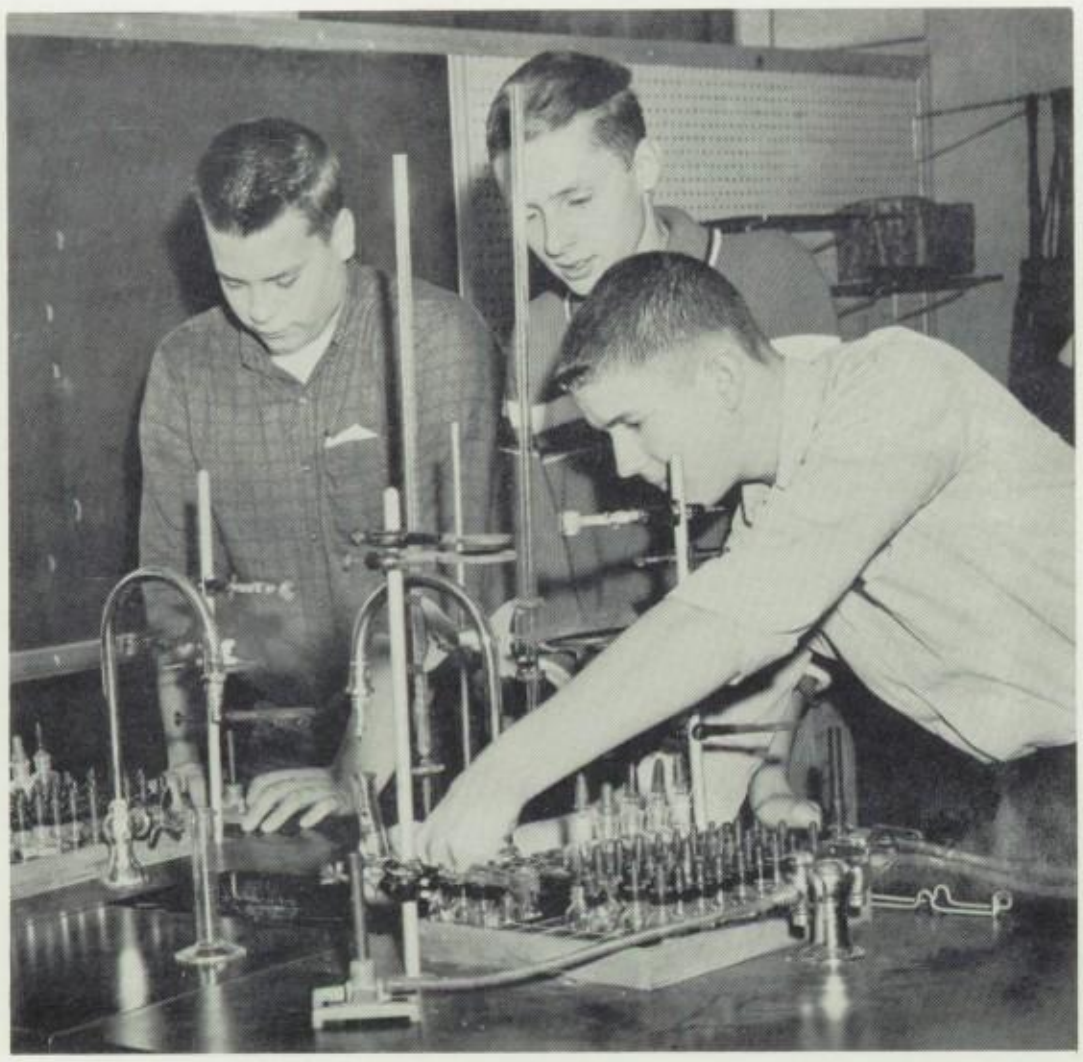
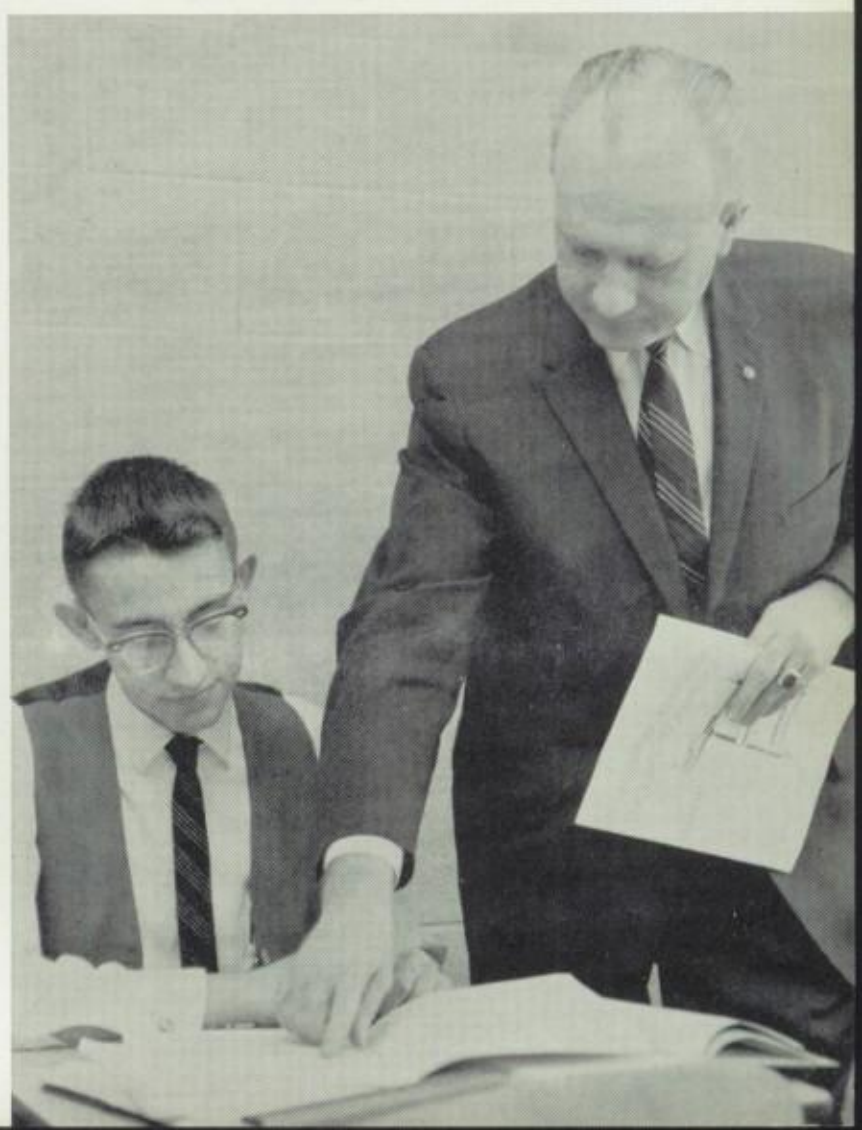
Many Academic Subjects



Chemistry students get ready for a litmus paper test, to check for acid.

Mr. Francis Reed is showing Bill Pfenninger how to figure income taxes.



Books And Music Added

With our spacious facilities, it was possible for us to enjoy various events which added culture to our lives. Our music department presented the famous Broadway musical, "South Pacific," and brought the Navy Band to the Field-house. Another outstanding program, sponsored by the Breakfast Optimists featured Wayne King and his orchestra.

Connie Moore, a speech arts student, is ready with the morning news.

Mike Dalton and Marsha Unger, theater arts students, practice before the class using techniques they have learned. Members of this group presented several school programs.

Outstanding music student, John Sox, also has earned many scholastic awards. He leads his own dance band and is known for the smooth sound of his saxophone.

Many Pleasures

Using our study guides, we became more proficient in reading, writing, speaking and listening, and were introduced to new methods of note-taking.

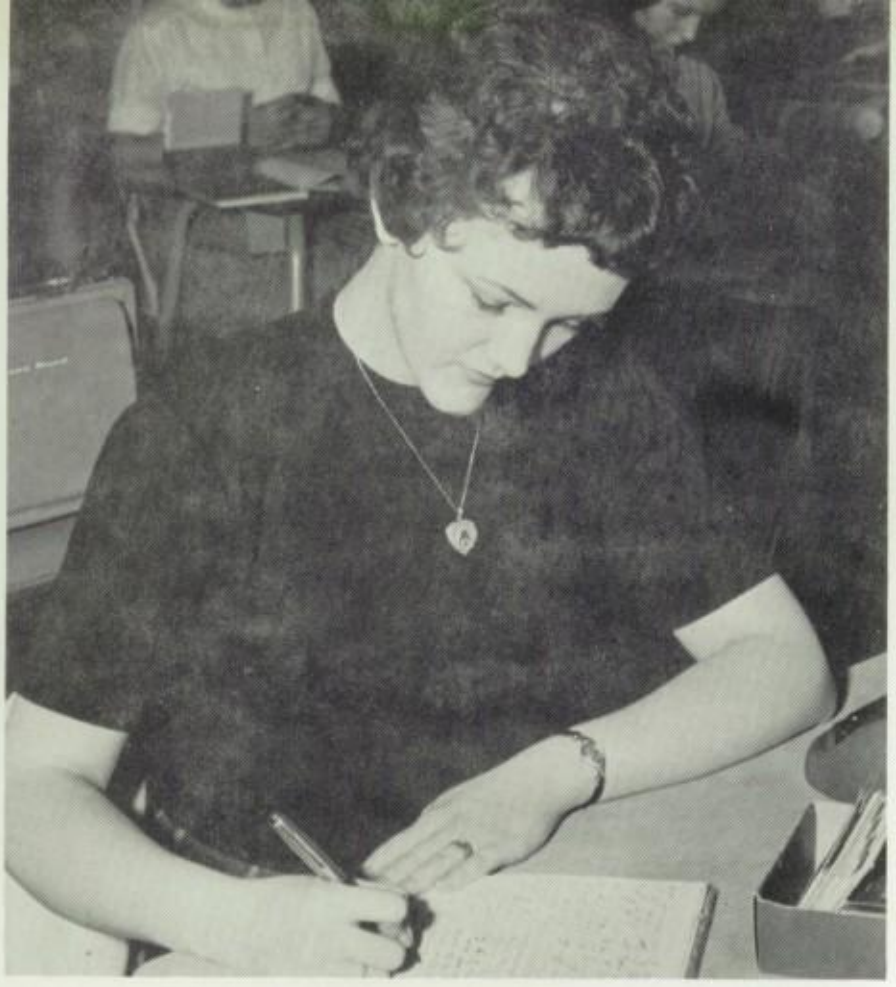
New emphasis was placed on literary knowledge, too, as the English department and the library sponsored a Book Fair which enabled us to buy famous books in cheap, paper-back editions.

Art students use creative ability as they work with charcoal, oil, pen and ink, and water colors.

Susan Wright and Veronika Leutwyler decorate the Christmas tree with original Swiss ornaments.

Dressed in German lederhosen, Mr. Robert Rinehart serves a typical German meal to Lynn Harris, Connie Moore, and Pam Cory at their annual Fasching Party.

During the Book Fair, students filed past the book-laden tables in the library to survey the many paper-back editions of famous fiction and non-fiction books.



Daily practice in taking dictation helps Wanda Mathews perfect her skill and speed in shorthand.

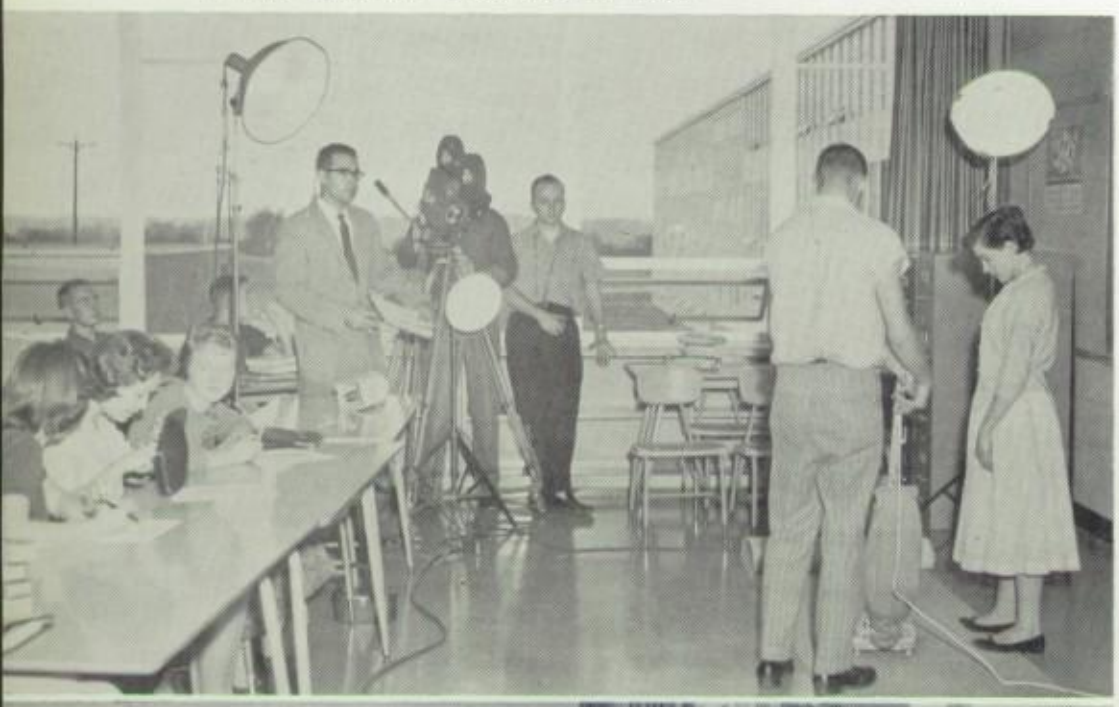
The business world is a big place, and there is plenty of room for everyone who is interested. Good training and a solid background of business fundamentals are essentially important to the person who pursues this field. Most of us at Chrysler High found the need to enroll in at least one business course, and we discovered that we could choose from a variety of courses.

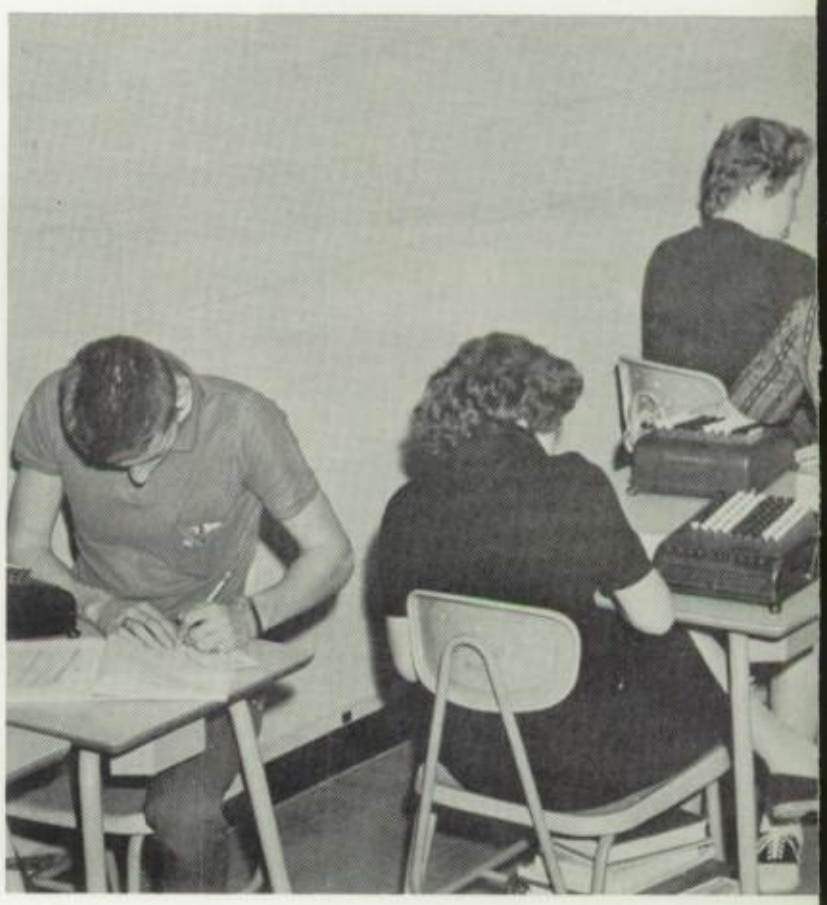
In our new business education classrooms, we used dictaphones, duplicators, comptometers, electric typewriters, and mimeograph machines. These modern machines prepared us for work in any well-equipped office.

We Enrolled

People will watch our retail selling class for years because of the I.U. distributive education movie made last fall.

Practical information like the writing of checks is stressed in the sophomore basic business class.





Although the majority of us who enrolled in business courses worked toward a major in that field, many of us took such courses as typing and shorthand in preparation for college and for our own personal use.

As we decided which major we would work toward in the business field, we chose from four different recommended programs. These were bookkeeping, general clerical practice, retail selling, and stenography.

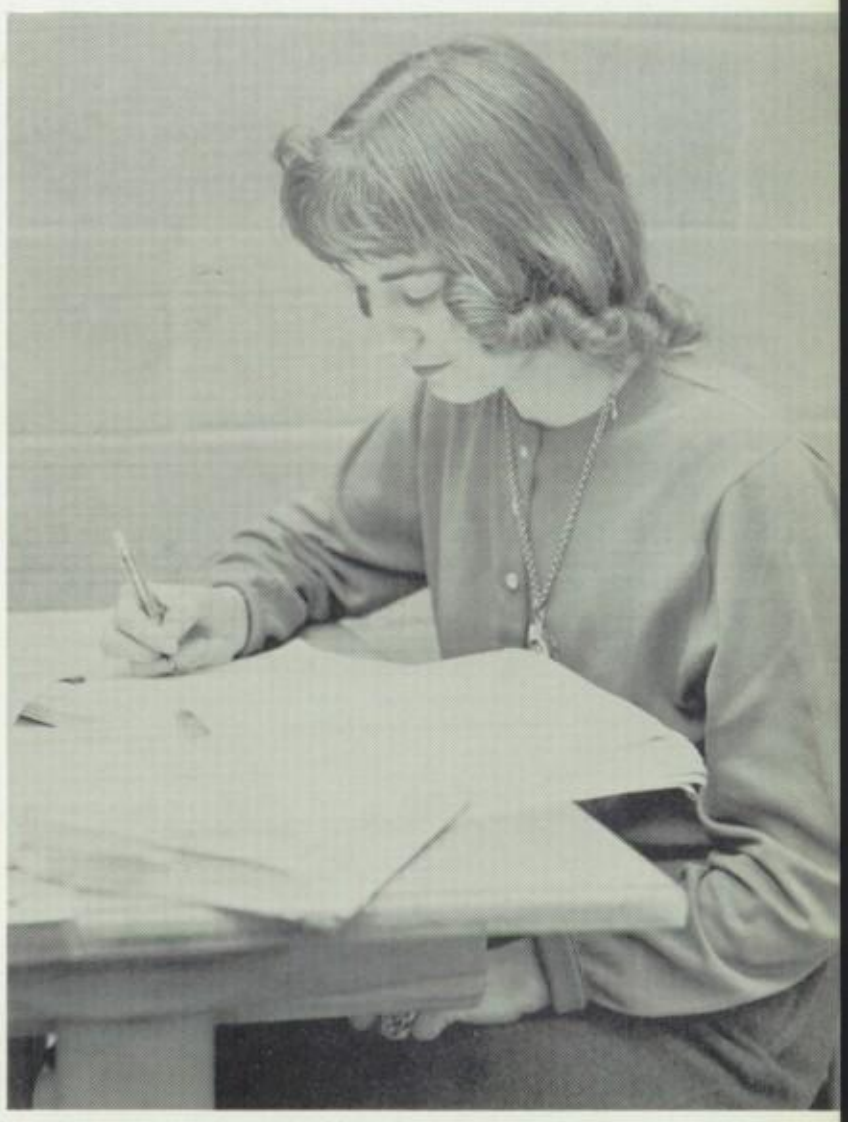
Two clubs that further prepared us for business were the Distributive Education Club of America and the Future Business Leaders of America.

Mr. Cecil Powell, student employment coordinator, helps Larry Neal in filling out an application form.

In Various Business Classes

Office clerical practice gives students a general knowledge of office machines and secretarial duties for future use.

Sandy Whitehouse works on a bookkeeping practice set which gives her an actual glimpse of office work.



Looking Ahead, We Made Plans

In a few years, almost all of our 500 girls will be housewives; and all of us, boys and girls alike, will need a well-rounded general knowledge of home management.

The permanent home economics area of our high school is still on the architect's drawing board, and it is impossible for us to offer a full program.

Miss Guymon leads an informal discussion in her family living class.

The Bishop Method of garment construction is stressed as professional looking outfits are made by the girls in clothing

Girls learn about almost every kind of material in their textiles class.

For Future Homes

The majority of our home-making classes are for girls, and special emphasis is placed upon personal and family living, sewing, and good housekeeping.

Two senior classes—family living and housing—are open to both boys and girls. In these two popular classes, we learned that a successful home depends upon mutual planning and cooperation.

Sue Waters, Martha Schroth, and Port Davidson inspect fabrics suitable for furnishing a home.

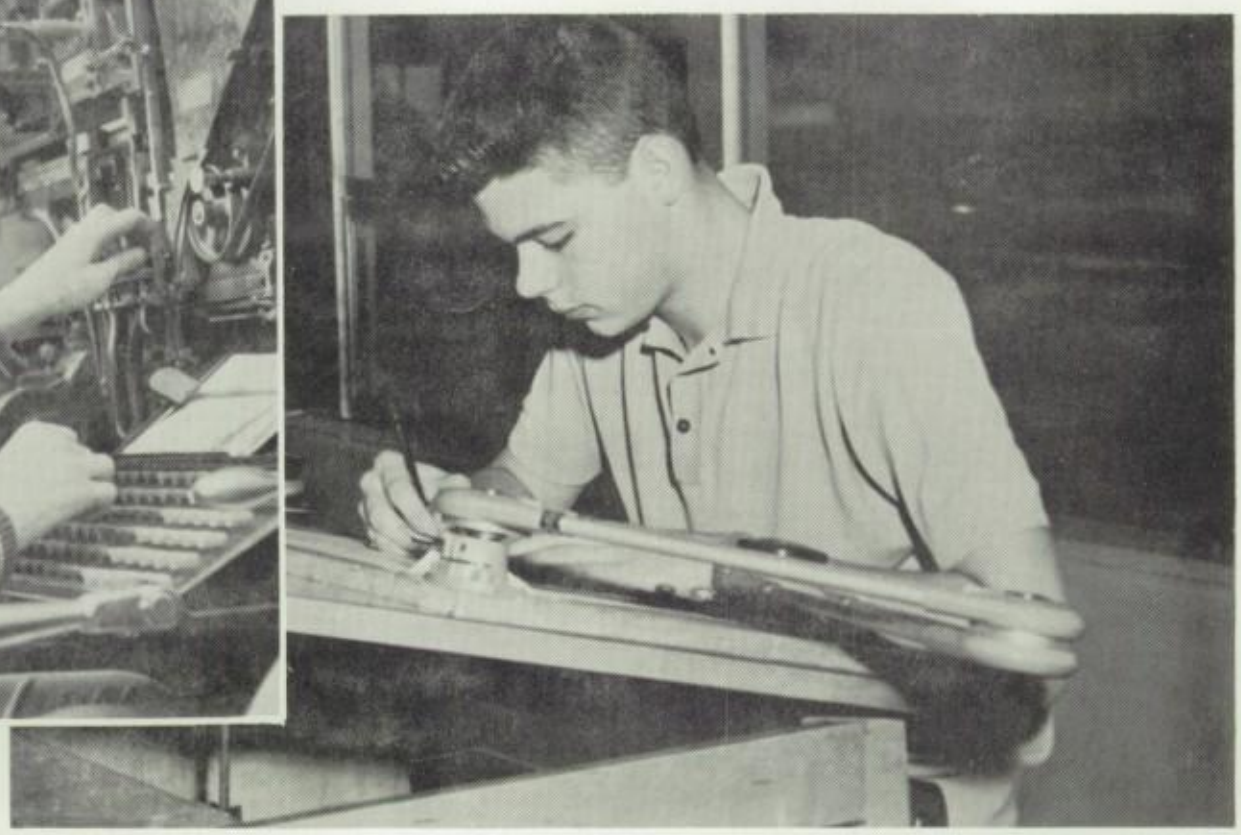
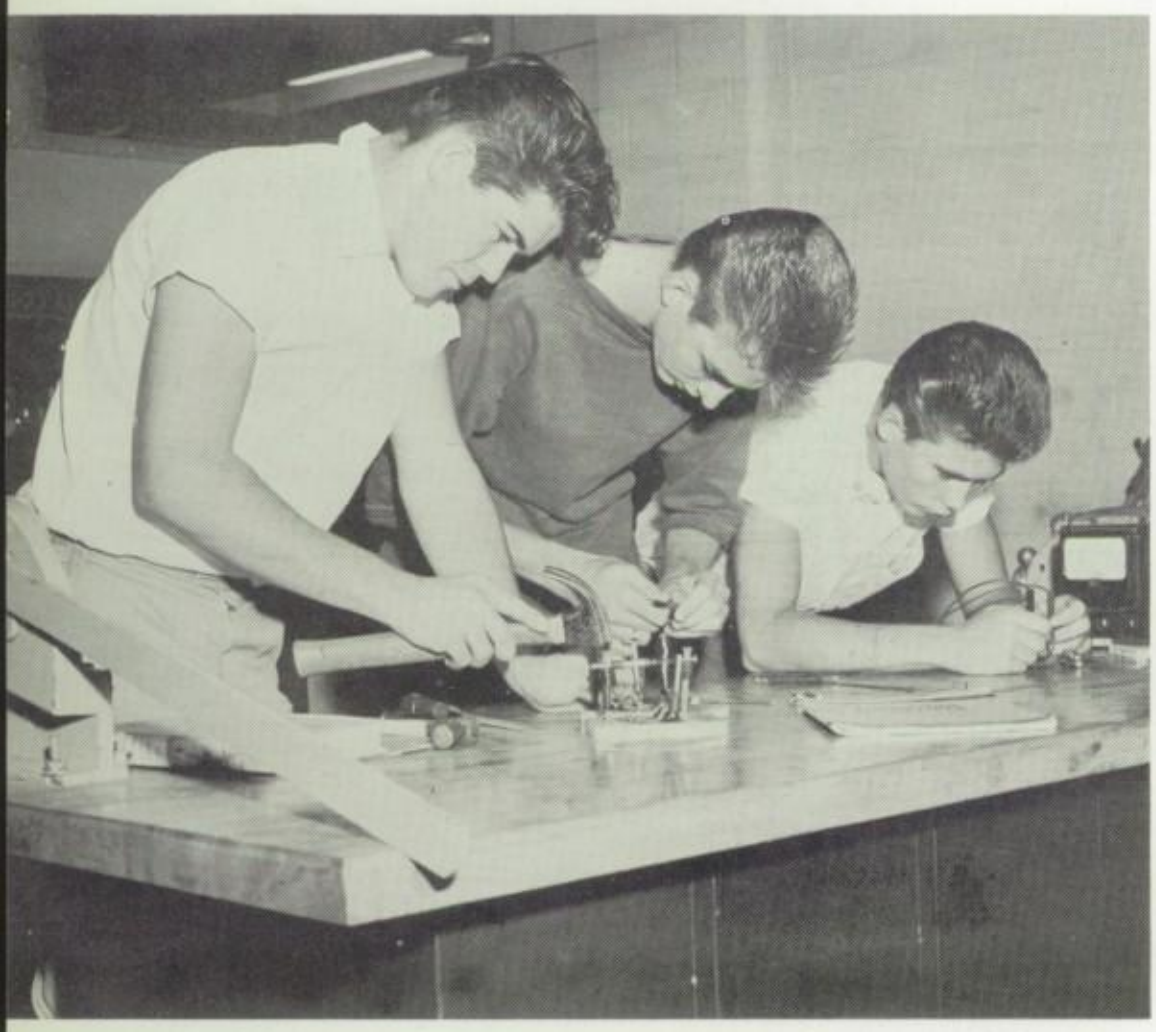
Caring for members of the family will be easy for girls who have had home nursing.

Dale York operates the linotype machine that is used to set type for the Phoenix.



Precision drawings and blue prints are ingeniously designed by boys like Sonny Kern in drafting class.

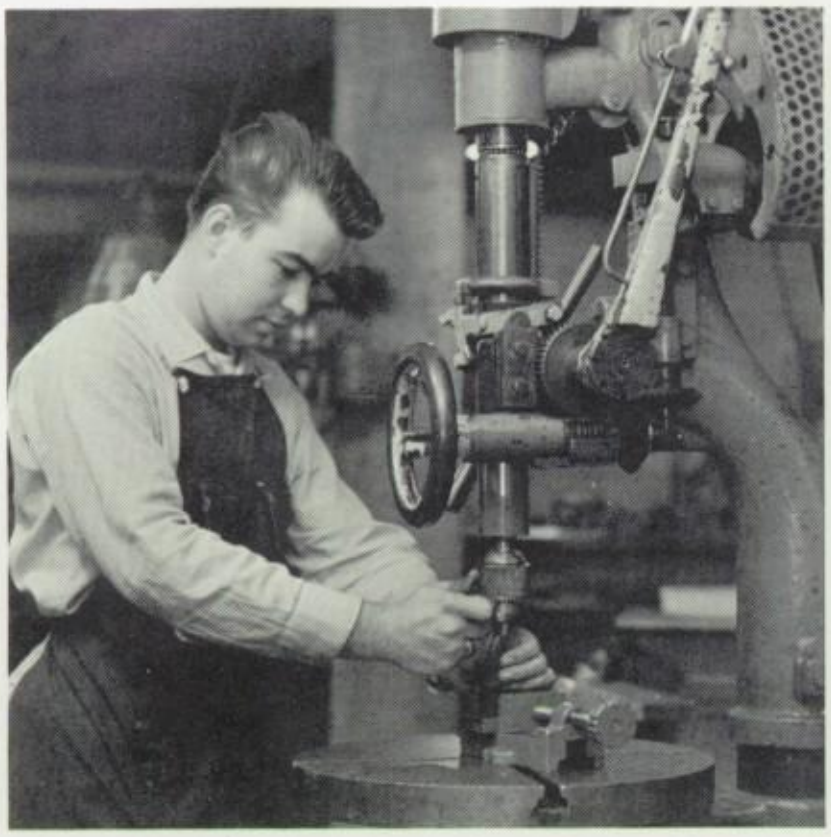
We Prepared For Life



The industrial arts and vocational practical arts courses helped prepare many of us for jobs in industry or developed our natural interests and abilities in various areas of industrial education.

At present, the facilities at Chrysler High are not adequate to accommodate all the classes that should be offered in this area, but plans are being made to construct a new wing which in a few years will provide the most modern conveniences for a full program.

Don McWhorter, Charles Lowhorn, and Haven Hughes find their knowledge of electricity extremely valuable as they work on various projects in their electricity class.



Don King lowers the drill press as he makes an opening in the steel shaft of a hammer in machine shop.

Bill Epperhart welds a wrought iron leg to a coffee table as Bob Kackler holds it securely in place.

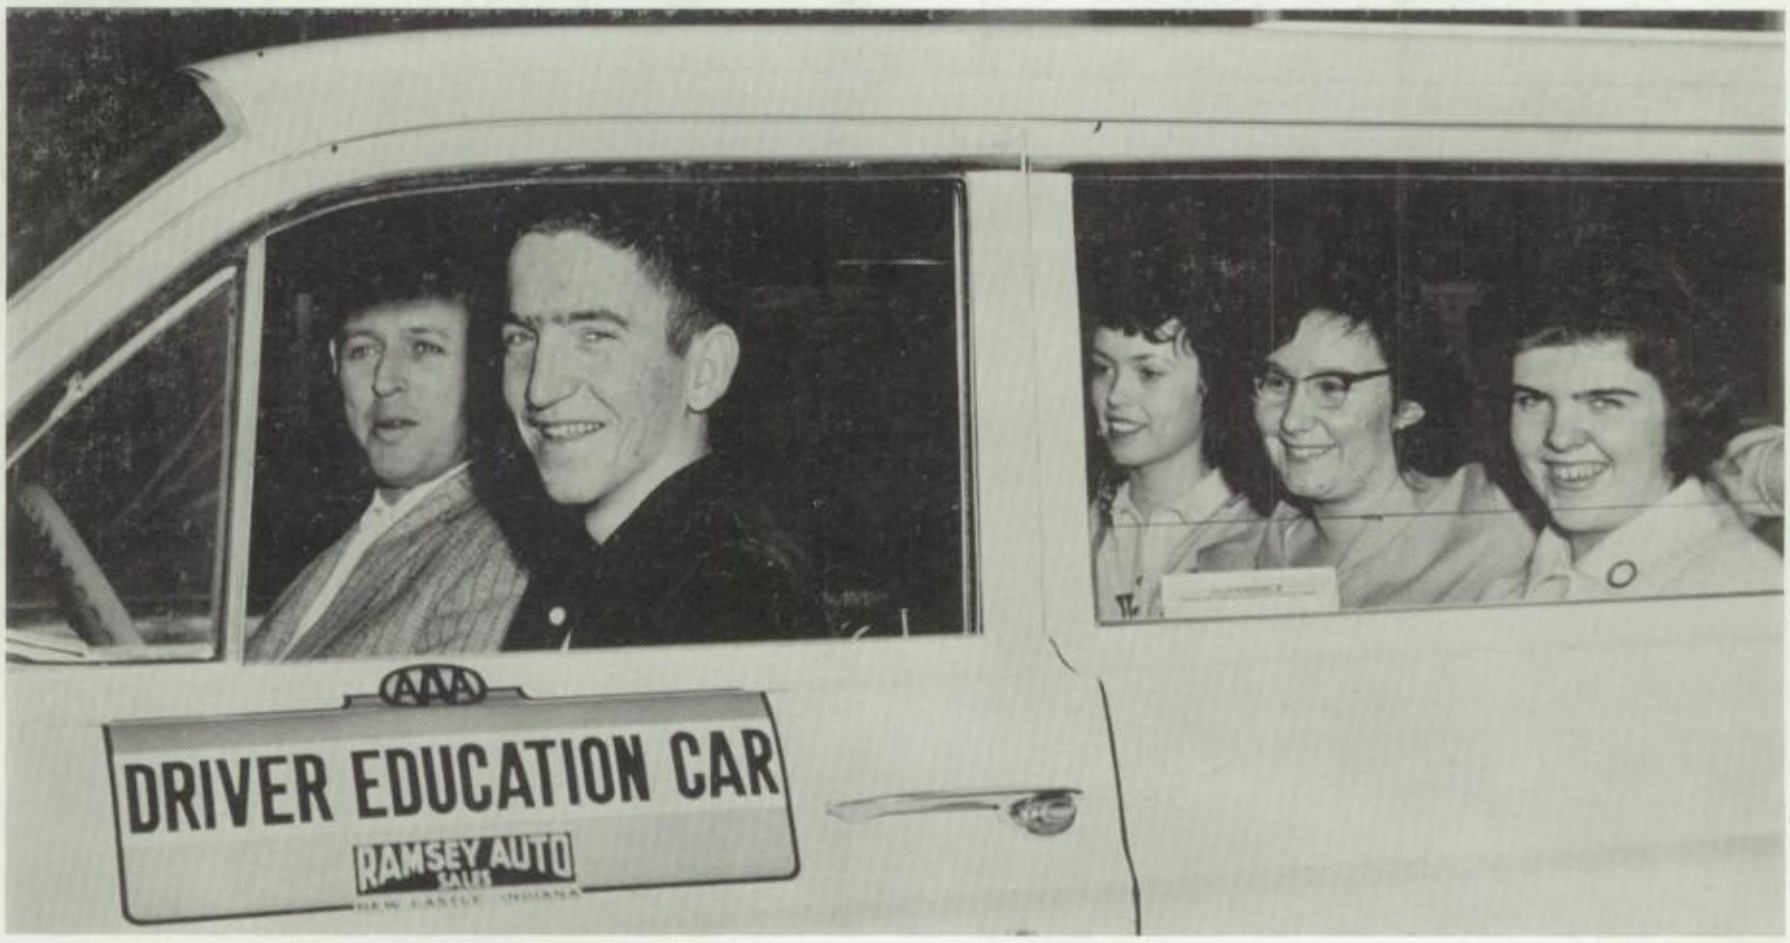
In An Industrial World

In our practical arts classes we found many ways to make practical application of such academic studies as math and science. The drafting course, for example, is fine preparation for those of us who will go on to college to major in engineering.

Although our industrial arts courses are planned chiefly for boys with an industrial interest, one class does enable girls to participate—this is crafts which has as many girls as boys.

Tom Phelps is molding clay into the shape of a bowl in crafts class. Using their imagination and various glazes, students create unusual shapes and designs.

We Developed Special Skills

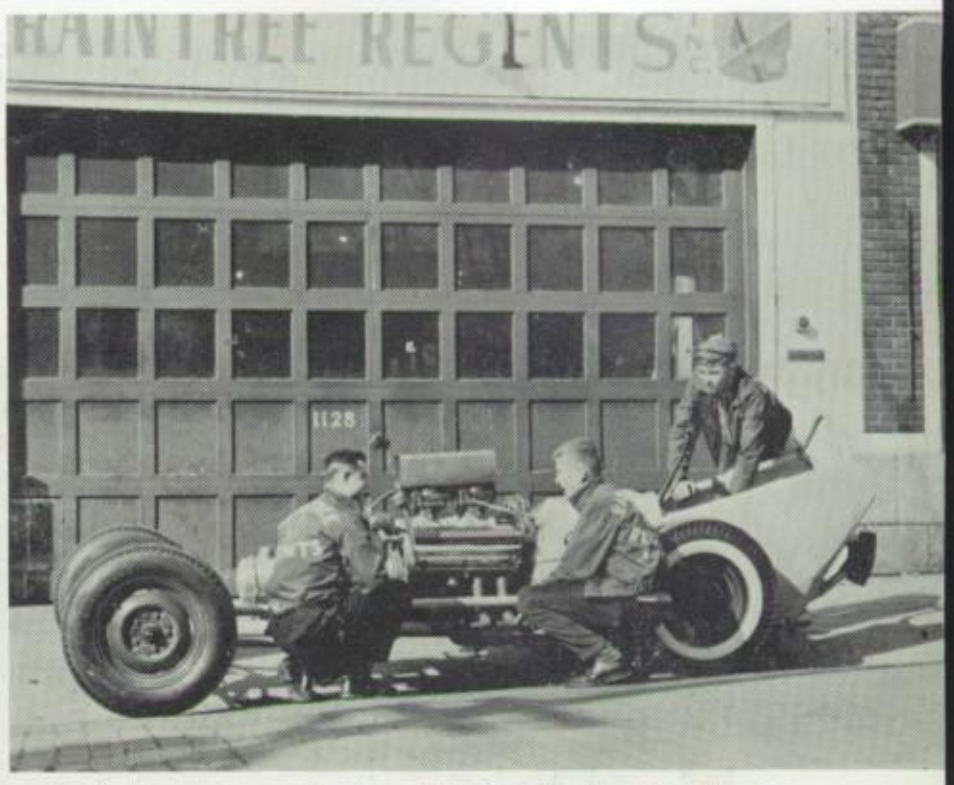


David Wallen, Mr. Ray, Carol Akers, Veronika Leutwyler and Carolyn Arrowood leave the U drive for actual experience behind the wheel. Principles of safe driving are stressed two-days a week — one day of actual driving and one day of class discussion.

Girls in physical education class demonstrate a pyramid they perfected during the six weeks they spent in tumbling.

Sophomores were required to take one year of physical education and, as in most towns in Indiana, basketball was a favorite activity.

Sue Pierce typifies many of us who spend our after school hours working in local business places. A job like this may lead to a career in merchandising or management.



Worthwhile mechanical projects like the Raintree Regents Dragster may lead to future occupations for boys like Ernest Hanna, Larry Stohler, and Jerry Stohler.

The World Is Waiting For Us . . .

. . . Yes, the world is waiting for our entrance as adults—we're the power behind that first trip to the moon or the scientific genius who discovers the cure for leukemia.

. . . we have that day called Tomorrow in the palms of our hands, and as graduates of Walter P. Chrysler Memorial High School we've gained the best possible training—we know what to do with that day.

. . . we leave our school knowing that we can face the world and its many demands with our heads high and with smiles in our hearts, because the time is right, the future is bright, and because—mostly Because We're Young . . .

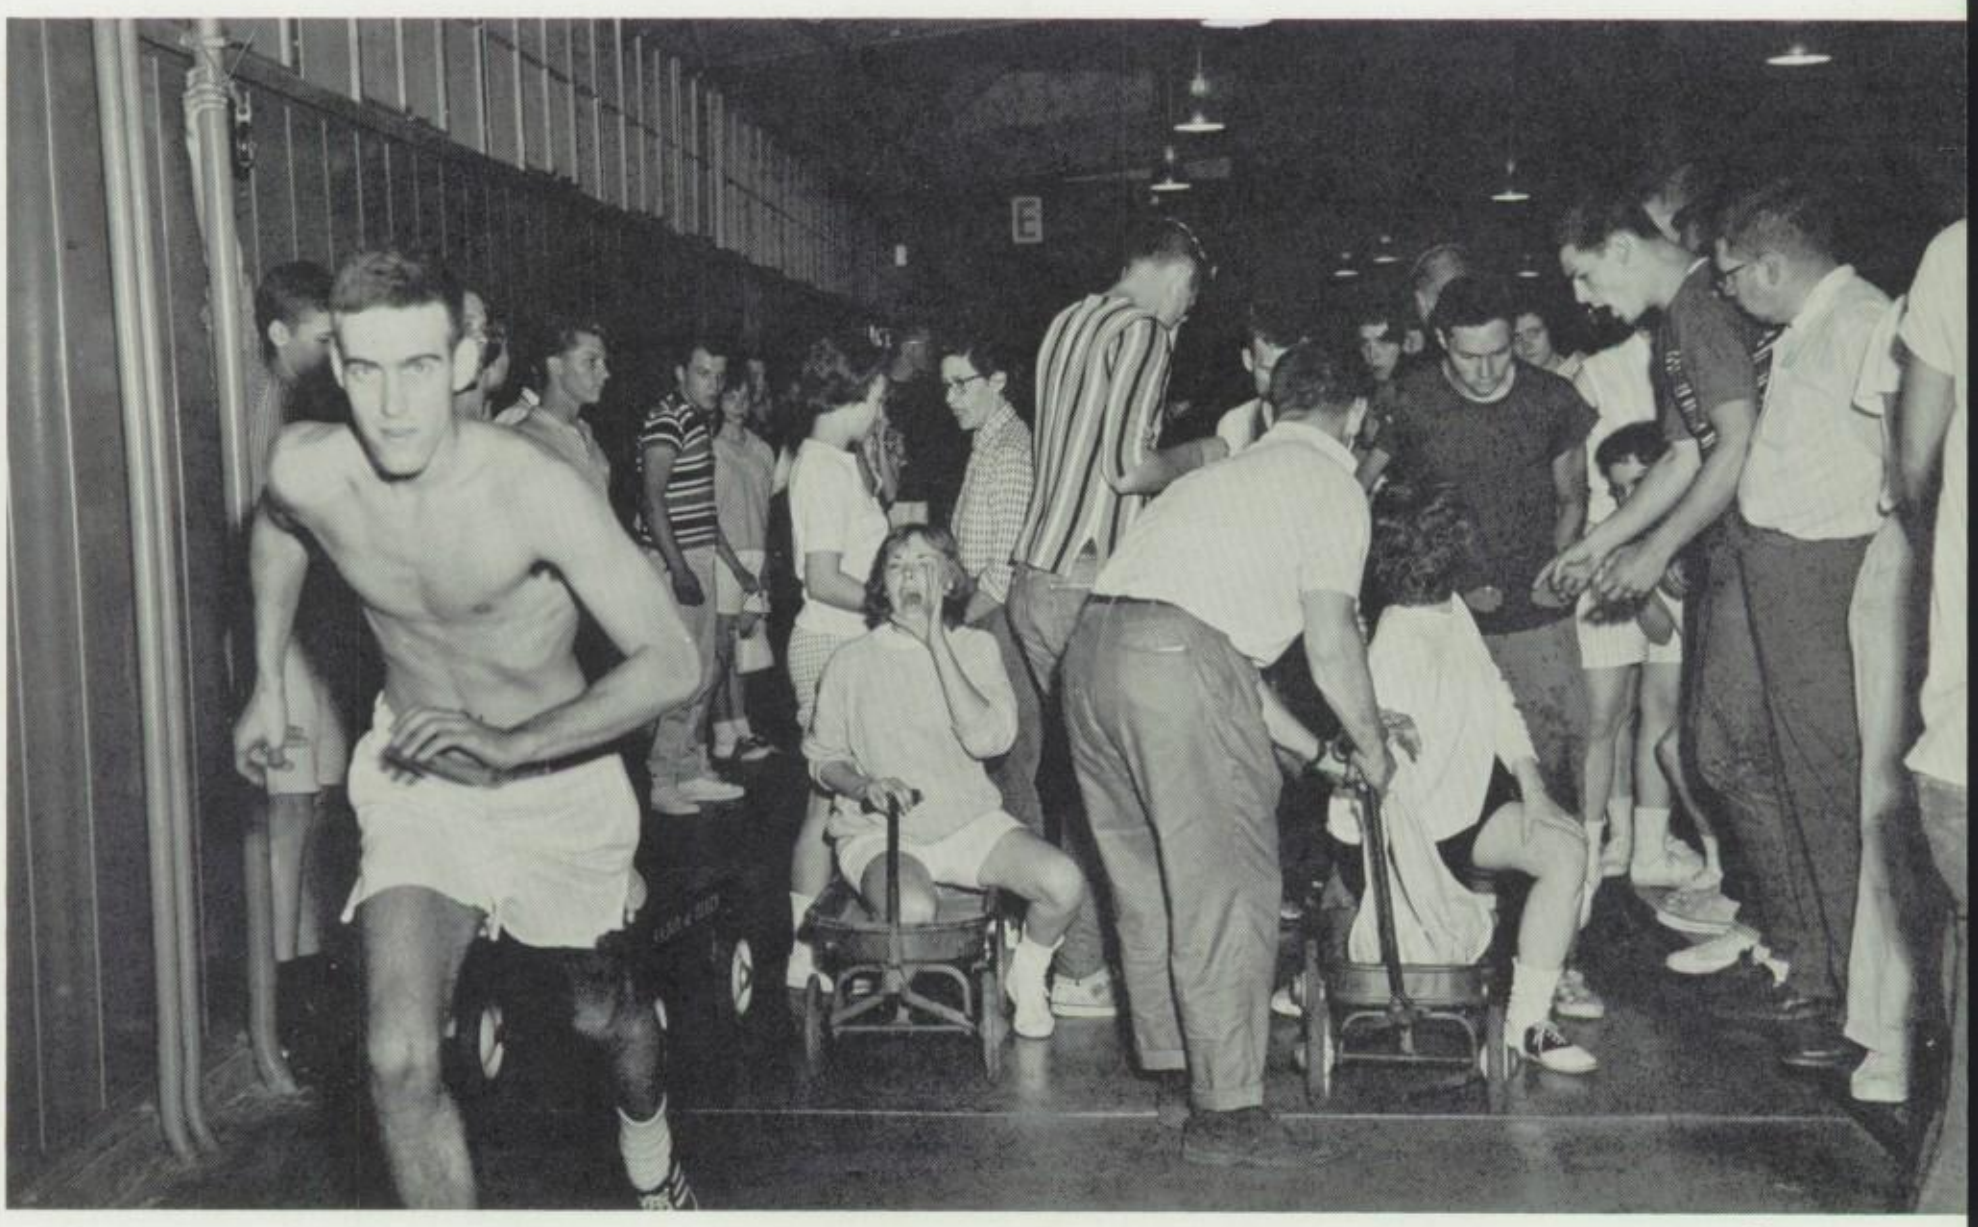
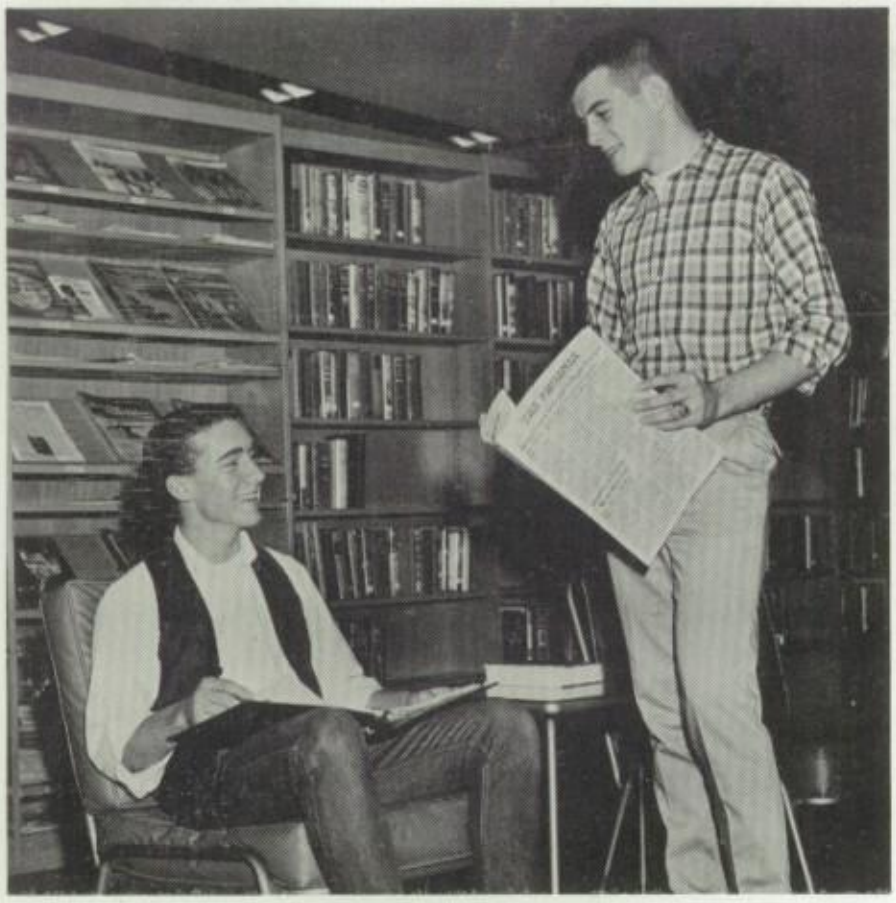
Activities

Our Year Was Filled With Big Events





Boosting the Trojans to many victories this year were the 125 members of Boys' Cheerblock. The boys' favorite yell was "Smart 'em," usually led by senior Dave Luttrell.

Members of the block spent hours after school making banners and signs for the school halls, and they covered the entire school with posters at Sectional time.

The clean white shirts, dark slacks, and green derby hats identified the group led by Vin Couden, president; Jim Neirinck, vice-president; Bill Corbin, secretary-treasurer; and Billy Steele, sergeant-at-arms. Mr. Joe Chandler was sponsor again this year.

Checking on the green derby hats which were issued to all members throughout the year are Jim Neirinck and Vin Couden.

Team To Victory With Clever Routines

Planning the many outstanding routines were Jane White, vice-president; Miss Gloria Castelluccio, sponsor; Sharon Judge, president; and Susan Selke, secretary-treasurer.

Forming words with flash cards or group spelling, originating new yells, and giving the team full support in victory and defeat were the accomplishments of the colorful Girls' Cheerblock this year.

Using the new name, Trojanettes, the 225 girls not only took part in home contests, but also traveled to various out-of-town games and to the Holiday Tourney at Logansport.

The girls wore two-tone green and white shirts, black skirts, white gloves, and green and white Trojan buttons, given to them by the Citizens State Bank.

Science Club Purchases New Microscope

Two of the Science Club officers, Bill Edstene and Tommie Allison, are shown in the greenhouse transplanting some plants as they conduct an experiment in botany as a club project.

Small groups of interested science students worked with their teachers in various interest areas this year and produced a variety of detailed projects. With club funds, a dissecting microscope was purchased for the biology department. This will be used for projects in seed or insect identification and embryology.

Officers for this year's club were Bill Edstene, president; Bill Ratcliff, vice-president; and Tommie Allison, secretary-treasurer. Science teachers who worked with the group were Miss Betty Jo Montag, Mr. Robert Furbee, Mr. Charles Ashton, and Mr. Robert Ackenhusen.

Bible Club and Machinists Plan Projects

To develop and encourage an interest in machine practice, Machinist Club members carried out two major projects this year.

Using automatic screw machines, they made ballpoint pens and small screw drivers.

Ernest Hanna served as president with Don King as vice-president. Larry Kendall was secretary-treasurer, and Mr. Hurley Jett was the Machinist Club sponsor.

Entering a float in the Homecoming parade, donating a Thanksgiving basket, holding four cookie sales, and sponsoring seniors at the annual Spring Banquet were achievements of this year's Bible Club.

Officers were Brenda Powers, president; Carol Clarke, vice-president; Jill Horseman, secretary-treasurer; Judy Luttrell, chaplain; and Mr. Hobart Risley, sponsor.

Providing new fifty star flags for every classroom was a major project of Student Council this year. They also held a training meeting for club officers, prepared lunch for the teachers at the close of the first semester, passed out programs at each football and basketball game, and decorated the school, inside and out, with lights and trees at Christmas time. These representatives, five from each class, met every other Wednesday with sponsors Miss Evelyn Rentchler and Mr. Lewis Larrison.

Hearts Hop, a formal all-school dance was a February project. Working with the Student Morale Committee, the Council again this year planned two successful all-school parties, the Watermelon Feed and Spring Fling.

Decorating for Hearts Hop with red and white crepe paper are Don Furbee, Janet White, Susan Selke, and Janice Hall.

Members of the Student Morale Committee were Lisa Jennings, Mr. Ray, Miss Castelluccio, Dick Osborne, Harleeta Teel, Mr. Chandler, Pat Sears, Don Furbee, Pam Goodpaster, Danny Riley, Frances Hinton, Doug Redelman, Barbara Becker, and Mr. Rinehart.

Sponsor Successful All-School Parties

Besides planning the pep sessions before big games, members of Student Morale Committee made arrangements for the hall and locker signs and took care of the Trojan Warrior's uniform. This group was composed of several members of Student Council, selected students from various classes, a senior cheerleader, and faculty sponsors. Mr. Robert Rinehart was the adviser.

Their most elaborate pep session was planned before the Muncie basketball game and featured ten senior boys as elaborately dressed can-can dancers.

At tourney time, girls from different classes helped the committee make streamers which represented all the county school colors. Flying from the light posts, these gave a colorful welcome to our Sectional opponents.

Business Club Takes Lead In State Activities

Taking the lead in both local and state events this year were members of FBLA with Cheryl Brewster as the state president; Bonnie Koenig, secretary; and Carolyn Hagerty, historian. Carolyn also was selected as the local Miss F.B.L.A. This group planned the state convention at Ball State and installed a new chapter at Lebanon.

Other activities included the Rummage Sale in November, selling pop corn and cokes at home games, the senior party, and the Christmas party. They also sent speakers and spelling contestants to the state convention, and the spellers won first place honors. Sponsors were Mrs. Juanita Bishop, Mrs. Barbara Marting, and Miss Sarah Hall.

Planning the food for our one thousand students at the all-school party, Spring Fling, was the task of the Future Homemakers of America this spring. In March, the local group was host to the District FHA Conference. Our girls were responsible for the flag presentation, after which Vice-Principal Lewis Larrison welcomed over 400 girls from the eastern section of Indiana. The delegates had lunch in our cafeteria and enjoyed a tour of our new building.

Officers included Nancy Adams, president; Beverly Davis, vice-president; Becky Pierce, secretary; Shirley Stover, treasurer; Leta Blaydes, historian; Linda Stover, editor; Linda Vores, projects; Kathy Costello, music; Cheryl Tabor, parliamentarian. Miss Frances Eilar served as sponsor and Miss Muzetta Guymon was assistant.

Mrs. Blevins, an ex-model from Anderson, talked to students and teachers about good grooming as a guest of FHA.

Arranging clever displays in their classroom window every other week and preparing sales manuals were two of the Distributive Education Club of America projects this year.

Larry Neal, the club president, was named Indiana's most outstanding student in distributive education at the state convention in February and represented our state at the national meeting in Chicago.

Tom Pitman served as vice-president; Mary Davis, secretary; Russell Brown, treasurer; and Judy Wissing, historian. Mr. Cecil Powell was the DECA sponsor again this year.

Sue Gooding makes suggestions as Bob Billings adds last minute touches to their show window display entitled "Let's Have a Party." A new display appeared every other week.

GAA Girls Participate In Many Sports

Eager to learn the rules and to participate in various sports were members of the Girls Athletic Association.

These girls met every Thursday after school to play basketball, volley ball, softball, and recreational games.

To climax the year, girls accumulating the most athletic points throughout the season were awarded GAA chevrons, shields, and letters at the GAA picnic in May. A special plaque was given to the outstanding senior member.

Officers were Millie Trent, president; Linda Wages, vice-president; Samie Roberts, secretary; and Cheryl Tower, treasurer. Miss Jean Stellingwerf was their sponsor.

Getting together for a GAA Council meeting are the four officers Samie Roberts, Linda Wages, Cheryl Tower, and Millie Trent.

Outstanding Students Gain Recognition

Second semester officers watch with excitement as Veronika Leutwyler telephones her family in Switzerland. The call was made possible by Honor Society at Easter time.

Juniors and seniors who ranked high scholastically were eligible for membership in National Honor Society. They also are selected on the basis of leadership, service, and dependability. Fifteen juniors and sixteen seniors were inducted into the Society at a banquet in April, and sixteen seniors had become members in their junior year.

These students were responsible for the Christmas toy drive, compiling the Honor Roll, selling note paper, and sponsoring the King Eskimo dance. A new project this year was selling collapsible cardboard seats at the basketball games.

First semester officers were Steve Dicken, president; Gary Rhodes, vice-president; Julie Benoit, secretary; and John Sox, treasurer. Second semester officers were Roy Garvin, president; Doug Redelman, vice-president; Jean Allan, secretary; and Celia Hammer, treasurer. Miss Catherine Ratcliffe worked with the Honor Society as their sponsor.

Eight senior boys are chosen as Junior Rotarians every year, and each boy is a guest of Rotary for one month at their weekly luncheons. At the final luncheon meeting of the month, each boy introduces his successor.

Eight of our students were representatives of their churches and attended sessions of the United Nations in New York City. While there they also took tours of the city and had conferences with foreign people.

The work of the United Nations was also the topic for discussion at the World Affairs Institute in Cincinnati. Four juniors were selected by the social studies department because of their ability in history and government. They were the guests of the Rotary Club at the meeting and heard many outstanding speakers.

In School and Throughout Our Community

Students who visited the United Nations were: Front Row — John Surber, Don Ulmer, Delbert Hinshaw. Back Row — Diane Foster, Margaret Harry, Marcella May, Nancy Adams, Freida Becker.

Selected to go to the Rotary sponsored World Affairs Institute in Cincinnati were Kip Goodwin, Joe Costello, Ginger Lowhorn, and Judy Batson.

Girls' State delegates and alternates were Cheryl Brewster, Celia Hammer, Carolyn Hagerty, Bonnie Koenig, Kathy Costello, Patty Thorne.

Eleven juniors, six girls and five boys, were selected to represent Chrysler High at Girls' and Boys' State last summer. These students were chosen because of their leadership abilities and interest in government by civic organizations and social studies teachers.

Both sessions studied the basic principles of government and law enforcement. Delegates were assigned to dorms, where they divided into various cities and counties to elect their governing officials. Throughout the week, they made posters and speeches and conducted enthusiastic campaigns for election.

Not only did these students bring back with them a better understanding of election procedures, but they also made many friends.

Good Citizens Represent Chrysler High

Selected for Boys' State were John Sox, Mike Williams, Roy Garvin, Doug Redelman, and Steve Dicken.

Campaigning for offices was a duty of every girl at Girls' State. Here Celia Hammer and Bonnie Koenig are drawing posters.

At Purdue Assembly And I.U. Sessions

Following regular voting procedure and using a regulation voting machine, juniors and seniors elected eight students to represent them at the Purdue Assembly in December. Marlin Evans was elected senator with Nancy Adams, Elsa Clift, Raymond Coffey, and Chuck Redman as delegates to the House of Representatives.

These delegates and their alternates prepared bills on Strike Settlement, Foreign Aid, Disarmament, and Civil Rights.

Chuck Redman was successful in getting his bill introduced and passed at the mock assembly which is patterned after the Indiana State Legislature.

Gathering facts for their bill on Civil Rights for Purdue Legislature are Elsa Clift and her alternate Jim Neirinck.

Students who earned ten points by acting in plays and working on stage crews were initiated into the New Castle chapter of the National Thespian Society this spring.

A dramatic portrayal of "The Diary of Anne Frank" was the fall Curtain Call production, and "George Washington Slept Here" provided hilarity for the senior play this spring.

Besides the meetings every other week, the group had a party after the last performance of each play. In the fall, they entered a float in the Homecoming parade.

Officers were Mike Dalton, president; Doug Redelman, vice-president; Sharon Taylor, secretary; and Gary Rhodes, treasurer. Mr. Don Scott was the club sponsor.

Marsha Unger skillfully applies make-up to Sarah Bavender, who played in both plays this year.

Looking at a theater magazine are three officers of Thespians, Janice Hall, Mike Dalton, and Sharon Taylor.

Dramatic Production Of Thespians

Settling down to wait and hope for freedom in their attic hideout are Peggy Ooten and Kay Reese, Mr. and Mrs. Van Dann; Sarah Bavender, Mrs. Frank; and Ilene Whitton, Margot Frank.

The Jewish captives were always eager for news. Here Mr. Dussel, portrayed by David Morris, heartily greets Mr. Karler and Miep, Jerry Kollmeyer and Carol Taylor.

The 1960 Curtain Call, "The Diary of Anne Frank," was the first dramatic production given by our theater students in many years.

The plight of the Jewish people under Nazi rule during World War II was vividly told by the experiences of the Van Dann and Frank families, especially the children, Anne and Margot Frank and Peter Van Dann.

All action took place in a third floor attic in Amsterdam, Holland, where the two families were hidden for many months. Their hopes and dispairs were excellently portrayed by a cast of ten; and the audience almost lived the concern, fear, and discomfort of the two families until that fatal day when the German soldiers discovered them.

Speakers Travel To Six Solo Meets,

By giving dramatic monologues, humorous monologues, original orations, poetry readings, oratorical declamations, and extemporaneous speeches at civic programs and speech contests, Speech X members earned points for National Forensic League membership.

Throughout the year, twenty-five students were active in NFL. In May at the Parents' Reception, other students earning the necessary twenty-three points were inducted into this honorary speech organization.

The speech team took six solo trips, learned legislative procedures at the NFL mock Congress, and was host to its sixth annual tournament this year. As members of the Indiana High School Forensic Association and the National Forensic League, they also took part in their state tournaments this spring.

Officers were Patty Thorne, president; Chuck Redman, vice-president; Elsa Clift, secretary; and Mike McKechnie, treasurer. Miss Juanita Rucker was the adviser.

Checking to see how they rated in one round of New Castle's Invitational Speech Tourney are Kay Reese and an unidentified guest. Peru was the school winner.

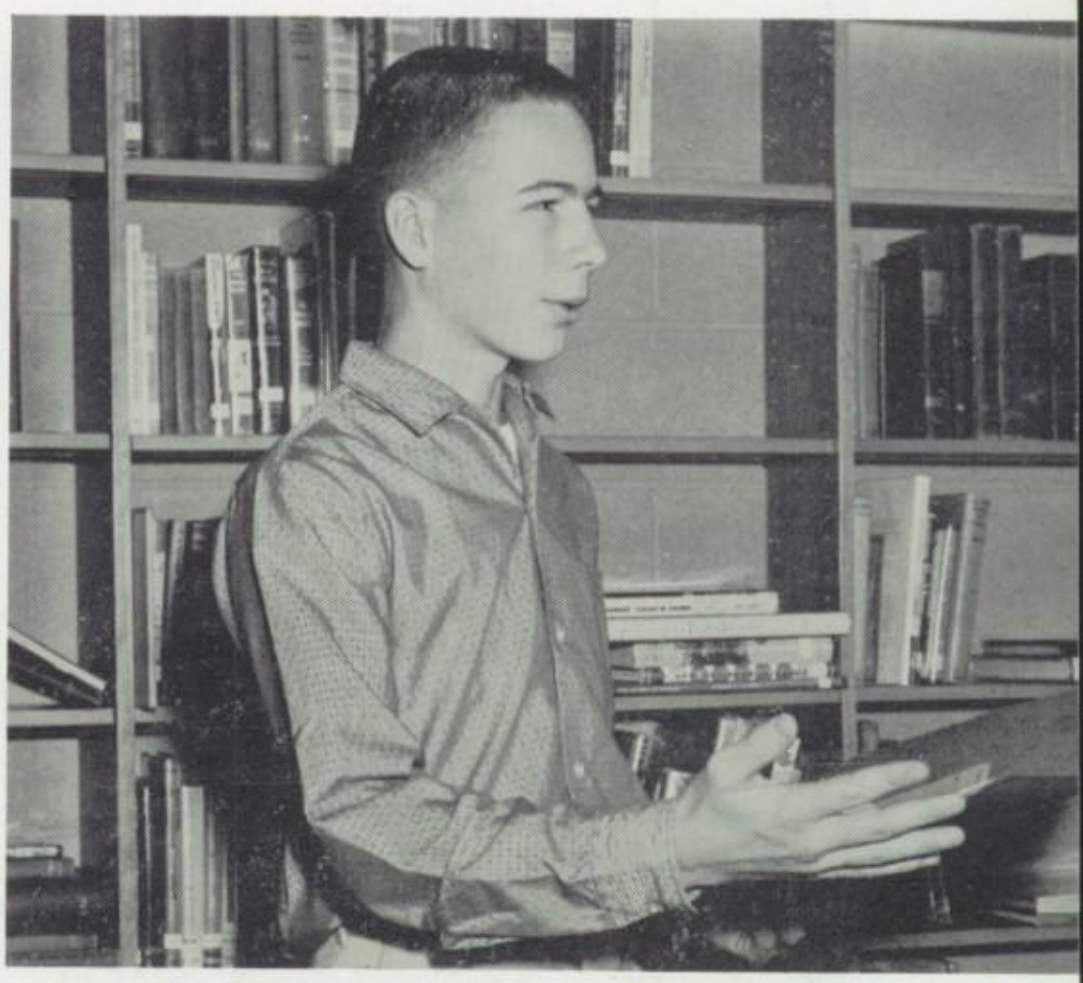
Entertain 300 At Invitational Tourney

"Resolved: That the United Nations should be significantly strengthened" was this year's debate topic, and 13 debaters traveled long distances to participate in eight practice debate sessions. Throughout the season they won 19 and lost 18, gaining points for National Forensic League membership.

Members of the debate team also participated in the Public Affairs Conference held at I.U. in November. At this conference, Steve Wirth was named as one of the ten outstanding speakers. In April, five of the debaters represented Chrysler High at the NFL Student Congress at Indianapolis.

Chuck Redman was named an outstanding debater at the Terre Haute and Elmhurst tourneys. Mr. John Nead served as the debate coach again this year.



Chuck Redman, an outstanding member of both NFL and Debate, presents one of his oratorical speeches.

Looking over the opening section for this year's Rosennial are Karen Padgett, assistant editor; Miss Frances Halberstadt, staff sponsor; and Harleeta Teel, editor.

The 1961 ROSENNIAL had its beginning almost seventeen months ago when seven juniors were added to the 1960 staff. Although the main job of these students was to index the 1960 Rosey, they started planning and dreaming how they could make the 1961 book different from the rest.

During the summer, three of the staff members, Harleeta Teel, editor; Karen Padgett, assistant editor; and Janet White, assistant business manager, attended a two-week session in journalism at Indiana University. There, they actually planned the lay-out and learned of ways to finance the 1961 ROSENNIAL.

In the fall, eight seniors were added to the staff and the work began in earnest. Writing copy, taking pictures, and meeting deadlines were the responsibility of every section editor.

Rosennial Staff Reviews School Year

Checking through the old Rosennials and other yearbooks to get unusual ideas which would add interest to this year's Rosey was a job for every section editor. Each staff member also had a folder in the filing cabinet where he kept his ideas, pictures, and copy. Shown here are Doug Padgett, Lisa Jennings, Roy Garvin, Mike Williams, and Celia Hammer.

With Unusual Pictures, Informal Theme

The staff of the 1961 book decided that since the last few ROSENNIALS had used a formal theme, they would use an informal theme, "Because We're Young," to tell both the amusing and serious happenings of the year.

The editor-in-chief of the 1961 Rosey was Harleeta Teel with Karen Padgett as her assistant. In charge of finances was Joan Dick, and her assistant was Janet White. Lisa Jennings and Janice Hall served as co-editors of the activities section. Pat Bond edited the senior section, and Celia Hammer was in charge of underclassmen. The sports section was directed by Roy Garvin with Doug Padgett and Mike Williams helping him. Ray Coffey and Jerry Beguhn were the advertising editors. Secretary for the staff was Sharon Judge. Miss Frances Halberstadt was the staff sponsor.

Six underclassmen became staff members of the Rosennial in January. They are Nancy Harter, Millie Trent, Donna Harris, Dannie Selvidge, Lois Hunnicutt, and Joe Costello.

Pat Bond, editor of the senior section, had to mount over 300 pictures of this year's graduating class. Helping her are Joan Dick, business manager; and Sharon Judge, staff secretary.

Phoenix Staff Publishes School's

Sending the Phoenix to other schools and collecting new ideas from other school papers was the job of exchange editor, Kenny Cooper. He gets help from Dick Osborne, Sarah Bavender, and Jim Auxier in addressing the mailing wrappers.

Performing such duties as taking pictures, and finding interesting subjects for the paper were these Phoenix staff members, Vin Couden, Deane Planeaux, Chuck Redman, Susan Jacobs, Jerry Stohler, Gerry Clemons, and Susan Hunter.

Selling ads, writing copy, and meeting deadlines were the weekly responsibilities of the PHOENIX staff. To make us an informed student body, the paper published the weekly news, a school calendar, sports, editorials, and society items of interest to everyone.

The PHOENIX staff this year gave the school its first fourteen page edition. This was the tourney issue which had pictures of all the county teams and the candidates for Mr. and Miss Henry County.

Members of the junior staff worked with our principal, Mr. Redman, to edit a new Activities Handbook which all students will receive later.

Gail Wake served as editor of the PHOENIX with Susan Bolinger as her assistant. In charge of finances was Judi Himes. Doug Redelman filled the new job of production manager. Mr. Larry Horney was the staff adviser.

Planning lay-outs, arranging work schedules, and taking care of finances were the responsibilities of Judi Himes, business manager; Gail Wake, editor; Doug Redelman, production manager; and Susan Bolinger, assistant editor.

First Fourteen Page Tourney Edition

Front Row — Miss McCord, F. Becker, G. Lord, J. Allan, S. Dicken, D. Wiles, C. Semler, J. Benoit. Middle Row — Miss Halberstadt, L. Vores, K. Costello, L. Harris, S. Bolinger, C. Morris, P. After a year's absence from the life of Chrysler High School, the literary magazine, the TROJAN TRIBUNE, is back to display the writing ability of our students.

Through their English classes, students submitted themes, essays, short stories, and poems. Members of the staff with the help of their co-editors, Jean Ann Allan and Steve Dicken, removed the authors' names and used a point system to evaluate them and select the best for publication.

Besides editing the TROJAN TRIBUNE, the staff published a STUDENT DIRECTORY in the fall with the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of all students and teachers.

English Department, Magazine Staff

Senior members of the Trojan Tribune staff collected written material from English classes, evaluated it, and then organized it for publication. Looking over some material are Julie Benoit, Larry Stohler, and Jerry Beguhn.

The eight underclassmen on the Trojan Tribune staff look over material submitted for publication. They are Jay Arnold, Deane Planeaux, Skip Wiesmiller, Carol Burgess, Judy Batson, Butch Joyner, Ginger Lowhorn, and Judy Baskette.

One of the features of the Internationale dance held at the end of Foreign Student Day was a song by a Thailand girl in her native language. The guest from France served as master of ceremonies.

Relating their ideas on politics and world affairs and giving their impression of America were these four students in one of Mrs. Mary Wayman's government classes. Although they now are students at Ball State and I.U., they come from all parts of the world.

Welcome Thirty-Three Foreign Guests

Thirty-three foreign students from Ball State and Indiana University visited our high school on Foreign Student Day, sponsored by the English Department, early in March. Students in Senior English classes served as guides during the day and showed the guests to different class rooms where they shared their experiences with our students.

Many of our foreign guests enjoyed the supper hour in our homes and learned more of American family life. A coke party after school and open houses were other highlights. To end an interesting and unusual day, the TROJAN TRIBUNE sponsored the Internationale, a record hop at which several foreigners entertained us with songs and dances.

At a coke party after school, the guides for the day took the students to the cafeteria to meet their dinner hosts. Janet White and Mickie Mahlum are pictured as they meet their guests and prepare to take them to Janet's home for dinner.

Students Serve Offices And Library

Working in our offices were: Front Row — S. Crawford, S. Higgins, C. Stamper. Middle Row — P. Layton, P. Frazier, G. Lord, S. Darling, C. Haynes, C. Burgess, S. Soliday. Back Row — C. Clark, K. Collins, C. Whittenburg, B. Clark, T. Allison, B. Becker.

With the assistance of office helpers and receptionists, our offices were operated very efficiently. These office girls ran errands, took messages to students and teachers, collected attendance slips, and recorded attendance. The receptionists also helped visitors who were unfamiliar with the school locate offices and classrooms. Among our guests were people from such distant states as Virginia, Colorado, and California.

The library helpers were indispensible to the smooth operation of the library. They checked out books, put them back on the shelves, and kept our library neat and orderly for our librarian, Miss Martha Nutt.

One of the duties of Ronda Mount, a receptionist, was to help people locate offices and classrooms. Here she gives detailed instructions to a new sophomore, Celia Razor.

Record Crowds Attend 'South Pacific'

Producing the Broadway hit "South Pacific," was a first in the history of Crescendo Varieties, the music department's annual spring entertainment. The last of April the Girls' Gym became the setting for Rogers and Hammerstein's musical south sea story. This well-known musical is the story of the problems which face American soldiers and nurses stationed on a south sea island. The lovely tropical setting plus the beautiful songs such as "Bali Hai," "Honeybun," "Some Enchanted Evening," and "Bloody Mary" made this show a big hit with the sell-out crowds.

With a cast of thirty-nine, a crew of more than fifty, and four months of practice this was the biggest project ever tackled by our music department under the direction of Mr. Gordon Gustin and Mr. Bernard Pressler.

Singing the romantic song "Some Enchanted Evening" as they discover they are in love are Beth Hamm, Nellie, and Phil Gray who plays Emile, the French planter.

Outstanding Civic Programs, Concerts,

When our choir members went to district and state contests, Larry Gough, David Matthews, and Phil Gray won high first place honors.

Besides successfully producing "South Pacific," A Cappella choir members presented many civic programs throughout the year. They gave both Christmas and Easter recitals at various churches in our city and participated in such school affairs as the Christmas convocation, "The Coming of the King," and Homecoming.

From Girls' Choir came many of the voices for "South Pacific," even though this was chiefly a training choir.

The Madrigal Singers, twelve boys and girls selected from A Cappella, performed at more than 50 affairs in this part of the state. These singers won first place in the District Music Contest and second in the State.

Participating in Girls' Concert Choir were: Front Row — I. Kinser, L. Hoover, S. Downey, J. Binion, L. Smith, L. Harris, B. Abrams, S. Hurst. Middle Row — L. Hamm, S. Winslow, V. Huckeby, E. Muterspaugh, M. Baker, K. Binion, B. Hamm. Back Row — J. Derby, B. Logan, J. Luttrell, V. Hamm, S. Raines, F. Whitehouse.

Members of A Cappella were: Front Row — J. Dyer, L. Downey, B. Bond, P. Bowser, S. Ingram, P. Larrison, G. Raybourn, N. Hoots, A. Kendrick. Second Row — D. Thrasher, G. Woodward, R. Wallen, E. Adams, J. Horseman, C. Norris, P. Jackson, W. Vincent, B. Abshire, D. Morgan. Third Row — S. Carnes, P. Ooten, B. Powers, S. Holloway, K. McCormack, R. Russell, P. Olden, C. Carr, G. And Convos Prove Talent Of Vocalists

Musicians Win High State Honors

Front Row — V. Sharkey, L. Vores, J. Marcum, C. Driver, J. Griffin. Second Row — P. Betz, M. Baker, N. Bledsoe, D. Wallen, J. Janulis, L. Wages, S. Kendrick. Third Row — M. Wantz, M. Slavin, N. Morris, J. Sox, M. Muterspaugh, S. Spannuth, D. Miller, T. Lyon, J. Lyon, A. Schoettinger. Fourth Row — M. Smith, J. Futrell, R. Lopez, J. Lawson, J. Smith, R. Pressler, J. Grubbs, D. Riley. Back Row — Mr. Pressler, B. Pfenninger, C. Shively, W. McCormack, D. Furbee, C. Clark, K. Costello.

Our orchestra this year took part in various school affairs which included the Christmas convocation, Baccalaureate, Commencement, and a spring concert. Twenty of our talented musicians were selected to form the pit orchestra for the production of "South Pacific" and provided a perfect accompaniment for the vocalists.

Twenty-four solo and ensemble performers from band and orchestra went to the State Music Contest after they had received firsts in the district contest at Ball State. From the state contest, Chrysler High School students brought home 13 superior ratings. Our orchestra also participated in Mid-State Orchestra Festival at West Lafayette in April.

Mr. Pressler checks some of the musical arrangements for the orchestra with its officers Phyllis Betz, Carol Clark, Linda Vores, and Kathy Costello.

Our Band Steps Out In New Uniforms

Bright new uniforms of green and black added spark to our band as they appeared in seven major parades in this part of Indiana and performed at all our home football and basketball games.

During the summer, members of the band went to Band Camp for one week at McCormick Creek State Park. There they worked out the routines that they presented for us this year at the half-time of our ball games.

Highlights for the band this year included winning the Outstanding Inspection Trophy at the State Fair and winning second place at Ball State's Band Day.

The five twirlers, headed by Marlene Slavin, presented exhibitions at many of our games. Also presenting numerous programs were the Castle Rockers and the Jug and Bottle Band.

Band Director Mr. Bernard Pressler and Drum Major John Sox proudly display the Outstanding Inspection Trophy which the band won at the Indiana State Fair last fall.

By a bamboo curtain draped with multicolored fish net and tropical orchids, the guests at the 1960 Prom entered the exotic surroundings of the South Sea Island of Bali Ha'i.

The walls of the Girls' Gym also were decorated with tropical orchids and pastel colored fish net. Smoking volcanoes and miniature South Sea Islands adorned each table. The center of interest, however, was the stage with a bamboo hut in one corner, large palm trees, and unusual vines and flowers surrounding a small trickling fountain.

As the hands of the clock slowly moved toward the hour of 11:00, Doug Redelman, vice-president of the junior class, prepared to disclose the identity of the Queen. As he announced the candidates and their escorts, they paused under a tinted spotlight before continuing to the stage. Then, for the most thrilling moment of all, Doug crowned Janet White Queen of Bali Ha'i Prom 1960 and placed a crown of orchids upon her head as the 1959 Prom Queen presented her with a sheath of carnations.

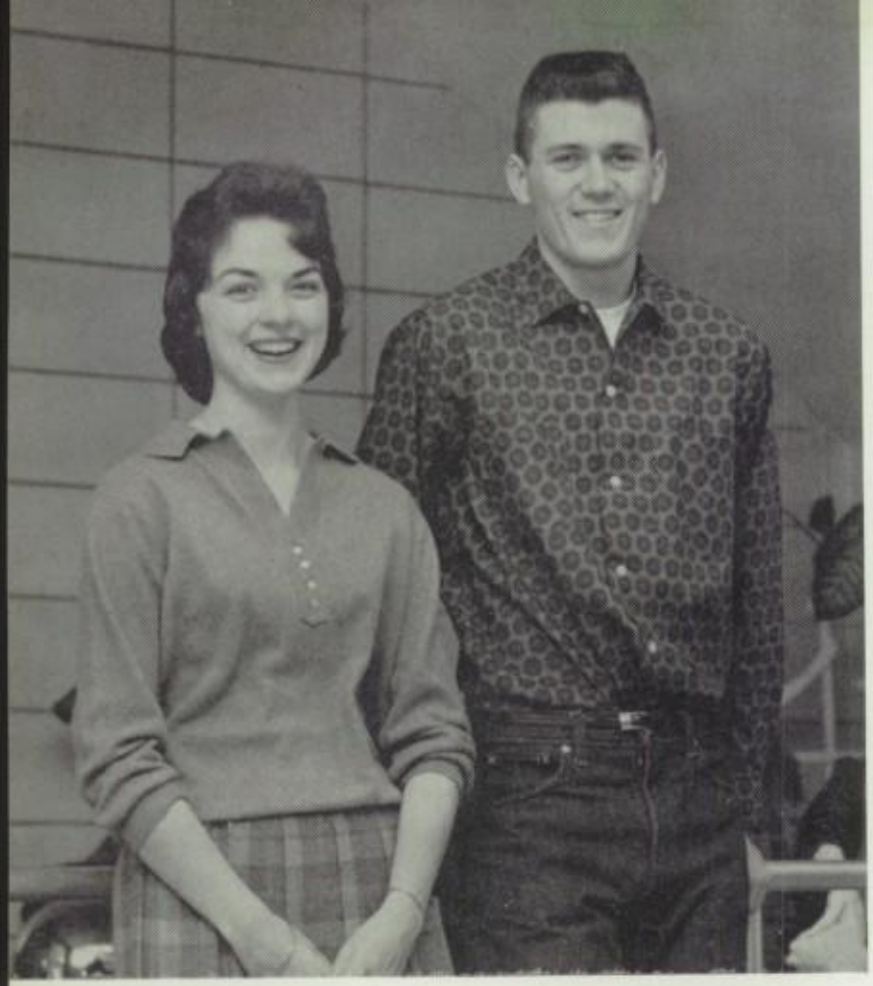
Ronda Mount



Seniors Janice Hall and Roy Garvin, elected by the entire student body, reigned as Mr. and Miss New Castle at the Tourney Trot. At a drawing during the dance, Roy was named Mr. Henry County.

The Homecoming Queen, Hearts Hop Queen, King Eskimo, Mr. and Miss DECA, Peppermint Twirl Queen, and Mr. and Miss New Castle were the royalty who reigned over special dances during the school year. The honored students were chosen in various ways, but their election was proof of their popularity.

Friday night was dance night after all our home games, and our dances were always held in the Girls' Gym. Disc Jockey Dick Lange was usually on hand to play our favorite records.

One semi-formal dance was held during the school year, the annual Hearts Hop. Carrying out the theme, "Sweethearts Swing," crepe paper of red and white was used to form a canopy over the tables which lined the gym floor. Two red ruffled hearts formed the backdrop for Bob DeCamp and his band.

Royalty Adds Sparkle To Dances,

Reigning as queen over the annual Peppermint Twirl dance sponsored by FHA was sophomore, Linda Stillwell. Her attendants were Linda Stover, Linda Vores, Cheryl Tabor, and Mary Watt, seniors and Linda Alexander, junior.

Elected by the students who attended the DECA dance were Kenny Harmon and Mary Davis, Mr. and Miss DECA. Russell Brown, DECA treasurer, crowned them and presented them with boxes of candy.

Lovely Patty Thorne was chosen Queen of Hearts Hop. Her attendants were Janet White from the senior class, Julie Bradway and Susan Selke from the junior class, and Judy Baskette and Pat Sears from the sophomore class.

King Eskimo Jerry Beguhn is being crowned by Julie Benoit at the King Eskimo dance sponsored annually by the National Honor Society. Students bought penny votes to bolster the chances of their favorite candidate.

Patty Thorne Is Queen Of Hearts Hop

Our Homecoming Queen and attendants were presented to the school and its guests during the half time of the New Castle-Marion football game. Attendants were Carol Burgess, sophomore; Patty Perry, junior; and Patty Thorne and Sally Selke, seniors.

Our Convos

Senior football player, Bill Baker, is presented his athletic jacket by Coach Langan Hay as Mr. Horace Cook, athletic director, looks on. All football and cross country athletes were honored at this convocation.

Dick Osborne, Don Vivian, Walt Jennings, Jerry Stohler, Tim Preble, Mike Williams, and Jim Shock entertained us at a pep convo with a comical can-can skit.

Thirteen convocations plus Honor Day and Class Day added variety to the school year. This year, Miss Juanita Rucker and the convocation committee arranged programs which broadened our knowledge of many fields. We began our special programs in September with Achievement Day.

In November, for our second convocation, Duane Carter, a famous race driver, talked to us about safe driving. At our third convo, in honor of the football and cross country team, senior letter winners received their jackets.

A religious atmosphere was created by darkening the fieldhouse and using special lighting for the Christmas Cantata "The Coming of the King," which featured the choir, orchestra, and speech students.

Senator Vance Hartke explained what could happen to our nation if we as young people sit idly by while the powers of communistic countries overtake the democratic world.

In a setting of Christmas trees, snowflakes, and stained glass windows the orchestra, choir, and dramatics departments presented a cantata depicting the events surrounding

Were Varied

For our Lincoln-Washington Day convocation the theater class presented two patriotic skits. Darryl Hood, Joe Baughn, Mike Dalton, and Marsha Unger are shown in a scene from the one-act Civil War play.

In January at our "BEAT MUNCIE" convo, ten of the senior boys entertained with a hilarious can-can skit. In February we had an unexpected pleasure when a missionary from New Guinea showed films of the primitive people that live in the Baliem Valley. Late in the month, the theater class presented a program in honor of Lincoln and Washington.

Our Easter program on Good Friday featured Reverend David Davisson, a New Castle graduate, now a pastor at Muncie.

With April came the annual election of six varsity and two B-team cheerleaders. On Honor Day in May special recognition was given to outstanding students. Then on Class Day, on June 2, the 1961 graduating seniors entertained with their traditional humorous skit.

At least 80 per cent of our accidents is caused by lack of courtesy, Duane Carter, famous race driver, told us last fall as he reviewed the rules of safe driving.

Our Officers Capably Led Senior Class

We all knew Marlin Evans, senior class treasurer, and the boys who helped him get to classes by carrying him up and down stairways. Among those who helped were Dick Osborne, Richard Mathews, Garvie Piercy, and Doug Redelman.

Proud of our new distinction as seniors, we members of the Class of 1961 met in September and chose four capable officers to lead us through our most active year of high school. The year was filled with many new experiences as we participated in events planned exclusively for us. We remember the school's first Achievement Day at which several seniors were awarded Honor Jackets for outstanding scholastic achievement. Through the year, we also participated in College Conference Night, Senior Vespers, Honor Day, Class Day, and, last and most important to us, Graduation. We anticipated all these activities with some hesitation, but our interest and excitement soon overcame our doubts.

These activities were the highlights of the year but many other everyday occurrences indicated we had at last reached this final year. We wore our traditional Senior Cords, exchanged name cards, received our rings, and were measured for caps and gowns.

We seniors of the Class of 1961 were the last to have been a part of the old high school. We were only freshmen then, but we will remember it as the beginning of our high school lives. As sophomores, we moved to the new Walter P. Chrysler Memorial High School and have helped the new high school maintain its standards of achievement. When we looked back over these four memorable years, we recalled our shortcomings as well as our achievements. These have been years of development in scholastic abilities and in our personalities. With graduation near, many of us wished we had worked and studied harder.

As a senior class, we chose the colors of Crimson Rose and White. Our flower was the Snow White Rose, and the motto we felt most appropriate was "The Past Is Gone Forever—The Future Still Our Own."

A senior convocation in October featured two missionaries from China who gave us an interesting account of their experiences. Jim Shock, John Sox, Miss Berniece McCord, and Mrs. Mary Wayman listen intently as Mrs. Andrew Kurth answers their questions.

Through Year Of Outstanding Events

As he fills out an application for a scholarship, Gary Rhodes seeks the help of Miss Evelyn Rentchler, who served as counselor for both senior boys and girls this year. She answered our many questions about college and careers.

Four senior committees selected our class colors, invitations, motto, and flower. Comparing ideas at a combined committee meeting are Ronna Elmore, Gayle Elliott, and Judy Buck of the color committee and Janet White of the motto committee.

We Gained Experience And Knowledge

By the vote of the senior girls, Grace Lord was chosen as the D.A.R. Good Citizen. She competed with other county winners and was tested for knowledge of social studies.

The Senior Class of 1961 was an impressive sight at every senior event. The audience watched the processional and recessional of over 300 students, the largest graduating class from New Castle High School.

The first official recognition of the Senior Class took place at Senior Vespers in December. This annual program sponsored by the P.T.A. saw us marching as a group for the first time.The guest speaker, Reverend Ernest E. Lawshe, told us to give ourselves "Room to Stretch" and urged us to realize our potentials and never be satisfied with mediocrity.

During the year, many of us have gained special recognition for our achievements. We have earned scholarships, excelled in athletics, won essay contests, participated in speech tourneys, and proved our ability in many ways.

As seniors we found the things we had dreamed about were fast becoming reality. At times it seemed almost impossible that all these things were really happening to us. Of course we didn't have big senior events every day for much of our time was devoted to our classes. About 35 per cent of us decided to go to college and several of us applied for scholarships. When making important decisions concerning college, filling out applications, and taking tests we obtained the help of our Senior Counselor, Miss Evelyn Rentchler, who worked with both the boys and girls this year.

Our senior year was truly a year of decisions. With a sound foundation behind us, we felt that we were ready to assume the responsibilities of adult citizens.

Al Schoettinger and Marlin Evans listen intently to Dr. Leo Hauptman, Ball State registrar, as he discusses college requirements. Representatives from thirteen schools participated in College Conference Night.

From Our Varied Senior Activities

The line seemed to go on forever, as the largest graduating class marched around the top of the Fieldhouse and descended to their seats. The senior procession was an impressive sight at Vespers, Class Day, Baccalaureate, and Commencement.

Led by their officers, the Senior Class of '61 was seen for the first time as a group at Senior Vespers, sponsored by the P.T.A. Reverend Ernest E. Lawshe challenged the seniors to work to their capacity and to set high moral standards.

Laughter Prevailed At Our Class Play

Annabelle Fuller's look of shock and surprise came when Newton, her husband, proudly told her he had just purchased an old, run down farm house. Her disgust is repeated throughout the play but when they nearly are evacuated, she realizes she loves it.

"George Washington Slept Here," this year's Class Play production, was a humorous story about the Fuller family who buys an old run down farm house over two hundred years old where George Washington once slept. Mr. Kimber, the handyman, through his suggestions and exaggerations, and Uncle Stanley, the "rich" uncle of the family, who has been broke since 1929, made laughter ever present in the Girls' Gym during the three night run.

Although Newton Fuller, played by Mike Dalton, thought it would be simple, things became much more complicated than he expected. Just to start things off right, Newton purchased the farm without the knowledge of his wife Annabelle, played by Janice Hall. Their neighbor, Mr. Prescot, played by Ken Cooper, caused his share of the confusion. Madge, the daughter, played by Marsha Unger, became involved with a married man, Clayton Evan, portrayed by Jerry Kollmeyer. Added to this was the problem of making the second house payment. The problems and chaos this caused and the ingenious solution made the 1961 Senior Class Play an outstanding comedy hit.

Throughout the year we had our serious moments mixed with fun and laughter. We took part in many activities during our last year of high school. We cheered for our team at the ball games and always greatly enjoyed the informal get-togethers with our friends. We attended the after-game dances and also the special formal dances that were held during the year. We will never forget the fun we had working and laughing together in school and in extra-curricular activities.

All of us had busy schedules, but we always found time to pause to talk with our friends about a class activity coming up or about a trig problem we were having trouble solving. All of these things made up a typical school day and the days made up our final year — a most memorable one for all of us.

Wearing their traditional cords, seniors often stopped to read and admire the humorous sketches and sayings. Ronda Mount and Dick Osborne pause before class to chat.

Fun Was A Part Of Our Final Year

Party times were fun times for all who were there. Dancing, refreshments, and just plain talk with friends were as much a part of high school as government and trigonometry. Enjoying the party at Sheryl Clampitt's house during the sectional tournament are Jim Shock, Diane Foster, Marsha Unger, Janet White, Tim Preble, and Paul Trainor.

Graduation Was Our Symbol Of Success

Graduation seemed near in March when we were measured for caps and gowns. David Imel, Arlen Helterbrand, and Steve Carnes wait to be measured as Miss Catherine Ratcliffe, senior sponsor, finds Joan Dick's head size and records it.

Dressed in caps and gowns, Grace Lord and Connie Moore pause on the stairway to reminisce for a moment as they prepare to step out into the world waiting for them.

If we seniors were asked to give a description of this year we would no doubt include many personal happenings. Not every class event affected all of us in the same way, but to all of us graduation was a long awaited day. As it approached, we felt a mixture of happiness and sadness which was hard to describe.

Our record through four years of high school earned us the right to be proud for we had completed a difficult task. As graduates of New Castle High School, we now can only look back on this part of our lives which will never come again. The future now has become the present and we find ourselves ready to enter into another phase of life.

We Juniors Studied Hard As We Began

Each week our halls were decked with signs such as "Burn Those Devils," "Hey man, beat Attucks," and "Atomize Arsenal." Marcia Dalton, Glen Marcum, and Pat Harding are shown painting such a sign to boost our Trojans.

At their initiation in November, the new choir members put on a hilarious skit in which David Matthews imitated Mr. Gustin, while the others portrayed the old members.

We Selected Class Jewelry To Wear

Our class officers met many times throughout the year to plan our junior activities. Bill Steele, our president, presided over our class meetings with the help of Kay Reese, vice-president. Susan Selke, our secretary, kept accurate minutes of our meetings, and Jack Thurston collected dues of two dollars from each class member to help pay for our Prom and meet other expenses.

In Our Senior Year

Billy Steele, our class president, was elected at our first meeting, called in November by Mrs. Mildred Fleet, our junior sponsor. We went to the Fieldhouse, 294 strong, to hear Mr. Larrison discuss our responsibilities and to elect officers. To serve with our president we chose Kay Reese, Susan Selke, and Jack Thurston.

One of the first problems we encountered was raising the money for our Prom. Our class dues and the profits from the Junior Jump, held after the Muncie Central game, were contributed to this fund. Many hours of planning and hard work made the Prom of our dreams a wonderful reality.

Algebra, U.S. history, chemistry, languages, typing, and shorthand required many hours of study; but we still found time to participate in sports and clubs. As our busy year drew to a close, and we selected class rings and pins, we felt almost like seniors.

One of the problems we faced as juniors was raising enough money for Prom. To help solve this problem we held a dance in January. Here Mary Sewell is selling a ticket to Eric Harter.

If a student wishes to run for a class office he must file a petition signed by ten classmates and five faculty members. Jack Thurston reads the instructions before asking Glen Marcum and Jim Roberts to sign his petition.

Selecting class jewelry was one of the big events which climaxed our junior year. Henry Grant and Karyn Nicoson are gazing admiringly while Sandy Whitehouse tries on a sample ring.

Confused And Excited, We Sophomores

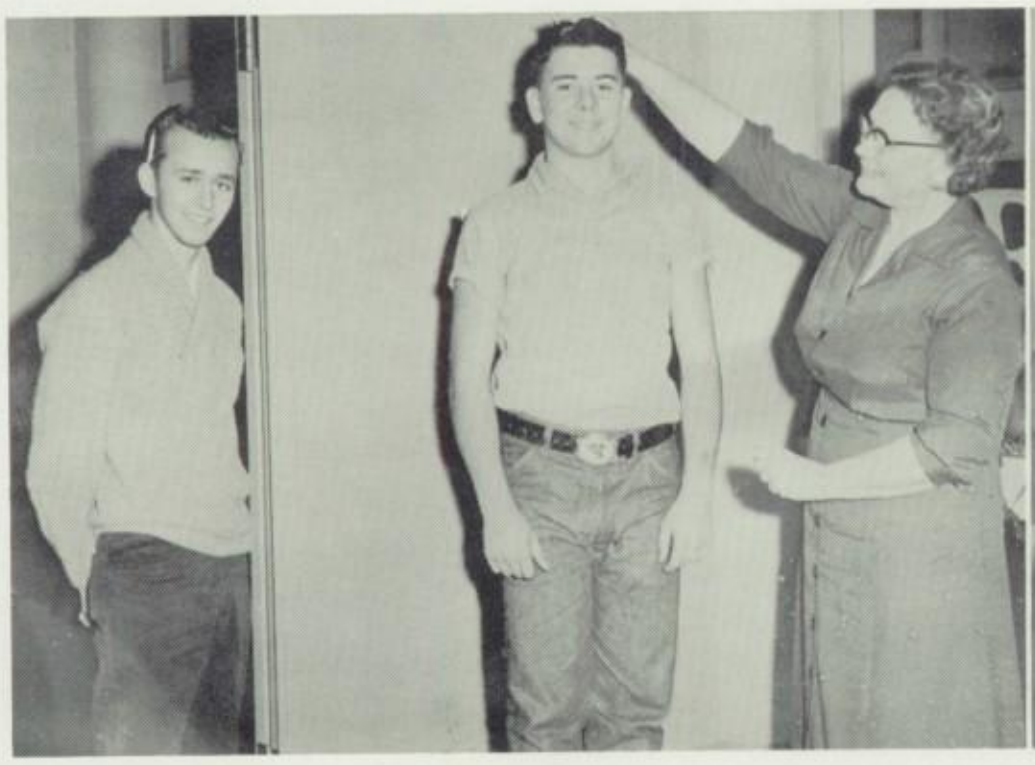
Row 6—Harold Flynn, Ronnie Flynn, Lynda Ford, Don Fox, Steve Fuller, Vicky Fuller, Don Furbee, Joe Futrell.

All sophomores were given eye examinations and like Estill King and Jim Lawson had their weight and measure recorded on their health cards by our school nurse, Mrs. Mildred Baily. Local doctors administered the Mantoux Tuberculin test to sophomores and seniors in January.



Orientation day is held each fall on the day before school starts to help new students adjust to Chrysler High. Here, puzzled sophomores Sharon Criswell, Ed Ward, and Jon Williamson are studying a list of homerooms.

As The Class of 1963 We Helped

Row 6—Nora Sue Swim, Kaye Tabor, Carol Taylor, Mary Ellen Taylor, Don Thrasher, Bill Townsend, Dorothy Trout, Dave Troxell.

All sophomores received a hearing test last fall like Mr. Fred Bayh is giving Cheryl Jones. Mr. Bayh also came to Chrysler High every Tuesday to work with students having speech difficulties.

Building a pyramid is fine if you are on top, but for the bottom layer it's a tiresome job. Boys' physical education classes spent many hours perfecting their tumbling.

Pep Sessions And Joining Cheerblocks

Since many spectators do not arrive until time for the varsity game, the Trojan Colts often play before a small crowd. These boys appreciate the continuous pep and enthusiasm of B-team cheerleaders Elsa Clift, Judy Baskette, Pat Sears, and Phyllis Davis.

Row 1—Elvin Troxell, Patty Troxell, Linda True, Cecil Tungate, Joyce Turner, Jerry Tutterrow, Danny Tyner, Danny Utt.

Administrators Plan Excellent Program

Members of the School Board were busy this year with the many problems of running a successful school system. The Board members met regularly once a month to plan our new cafeteria, other new buildings, and to discuss such topics as athletics. Pictured are Mr. Rexford G. Wright, superintendent; Mr. Alan J. Fromuth; Dr. Robert S. Ensign, secretary; Mr. Vance C. Downey, president; Mr. Lawrence Renfro, attorney; Mr. Claude L. Harry; and Mr. Phillip S. White, treasurer.

Directing the education of nearly 6,000 students is the huge responsibility of Superintendent Rexford G. Wright and the five members of the School Board. The fine record New Castle students have set in college and in other activities is proof that they do their job well.

Here at Chrysler High School, Principal Edgar B. Redman heads a staff of 50 teachers who must plan the educational program of approximately 1,000 students.

A new counseling system this year made it possible for us to receive more individual attention from our counselors. Mr. Lewis Larrison, our vice-principal, was in charge of attendance and behavior and also helped direct our Student Council. Miss Evelyn Rentchler, the counselor chairman, worked with the members of the senior class. Mrs. Mary Sinnock and Mr. Robert Rinehart shared the counseling duties for the junior and sophomore classes.

Each Thursday after school our counselors met together to discuss the scheduling of classes, giving tests, helping students prepare for future careers, and other problems that are common among 1,000 high school students. Pictured at a counselors' meeting are Mr. Robert Rinehart, Miss Evelyn Rentchler, chairman, and Mrs. Mary Sinnock.

The Joneses are a very happy family, especially since the arrival of their son. Young Curtis made his appearance on this earth while Mr. Jones was helping coach the football team against Connersville.

Constructing houses and other buildings is a favorite pastime for Mr. Chandler, his wife, and three children. Mr. Chandler enjoys many types of sports and may soon have his own basketball team.

Our very capable office employees are Mrs. Jean Zeigler, Mrs. Jeannette Sheddrick, Mrs. Bertha Van Hoy, and Mrs. Edith Ingram.

Whether buying needed school supplies in the bookstore, reporting a lost book in the general office, or obtaining an excuse blank in the Counseling Center, Chrysler High School students found the office employees courteous as well as very helpful. These four well-liked staff members are Mrs. Jeannette Sheddrick, Mrs. Jean Zeigler, Mrs. Bertha Van Hoy, and Mrs. Edith Ingram.

Other popular members of the Chrysler High School staff are our well-trained custodians and cafeteria employees. It takes a staff of ten custodians to keep our high school and fieldhouse clean and attractive, and they work on three different eight-hour shifts. There are fourteen cafeteria employees who are kept busy each day preparing well-balanced lunches for nearly everyone in Chrysler High School.

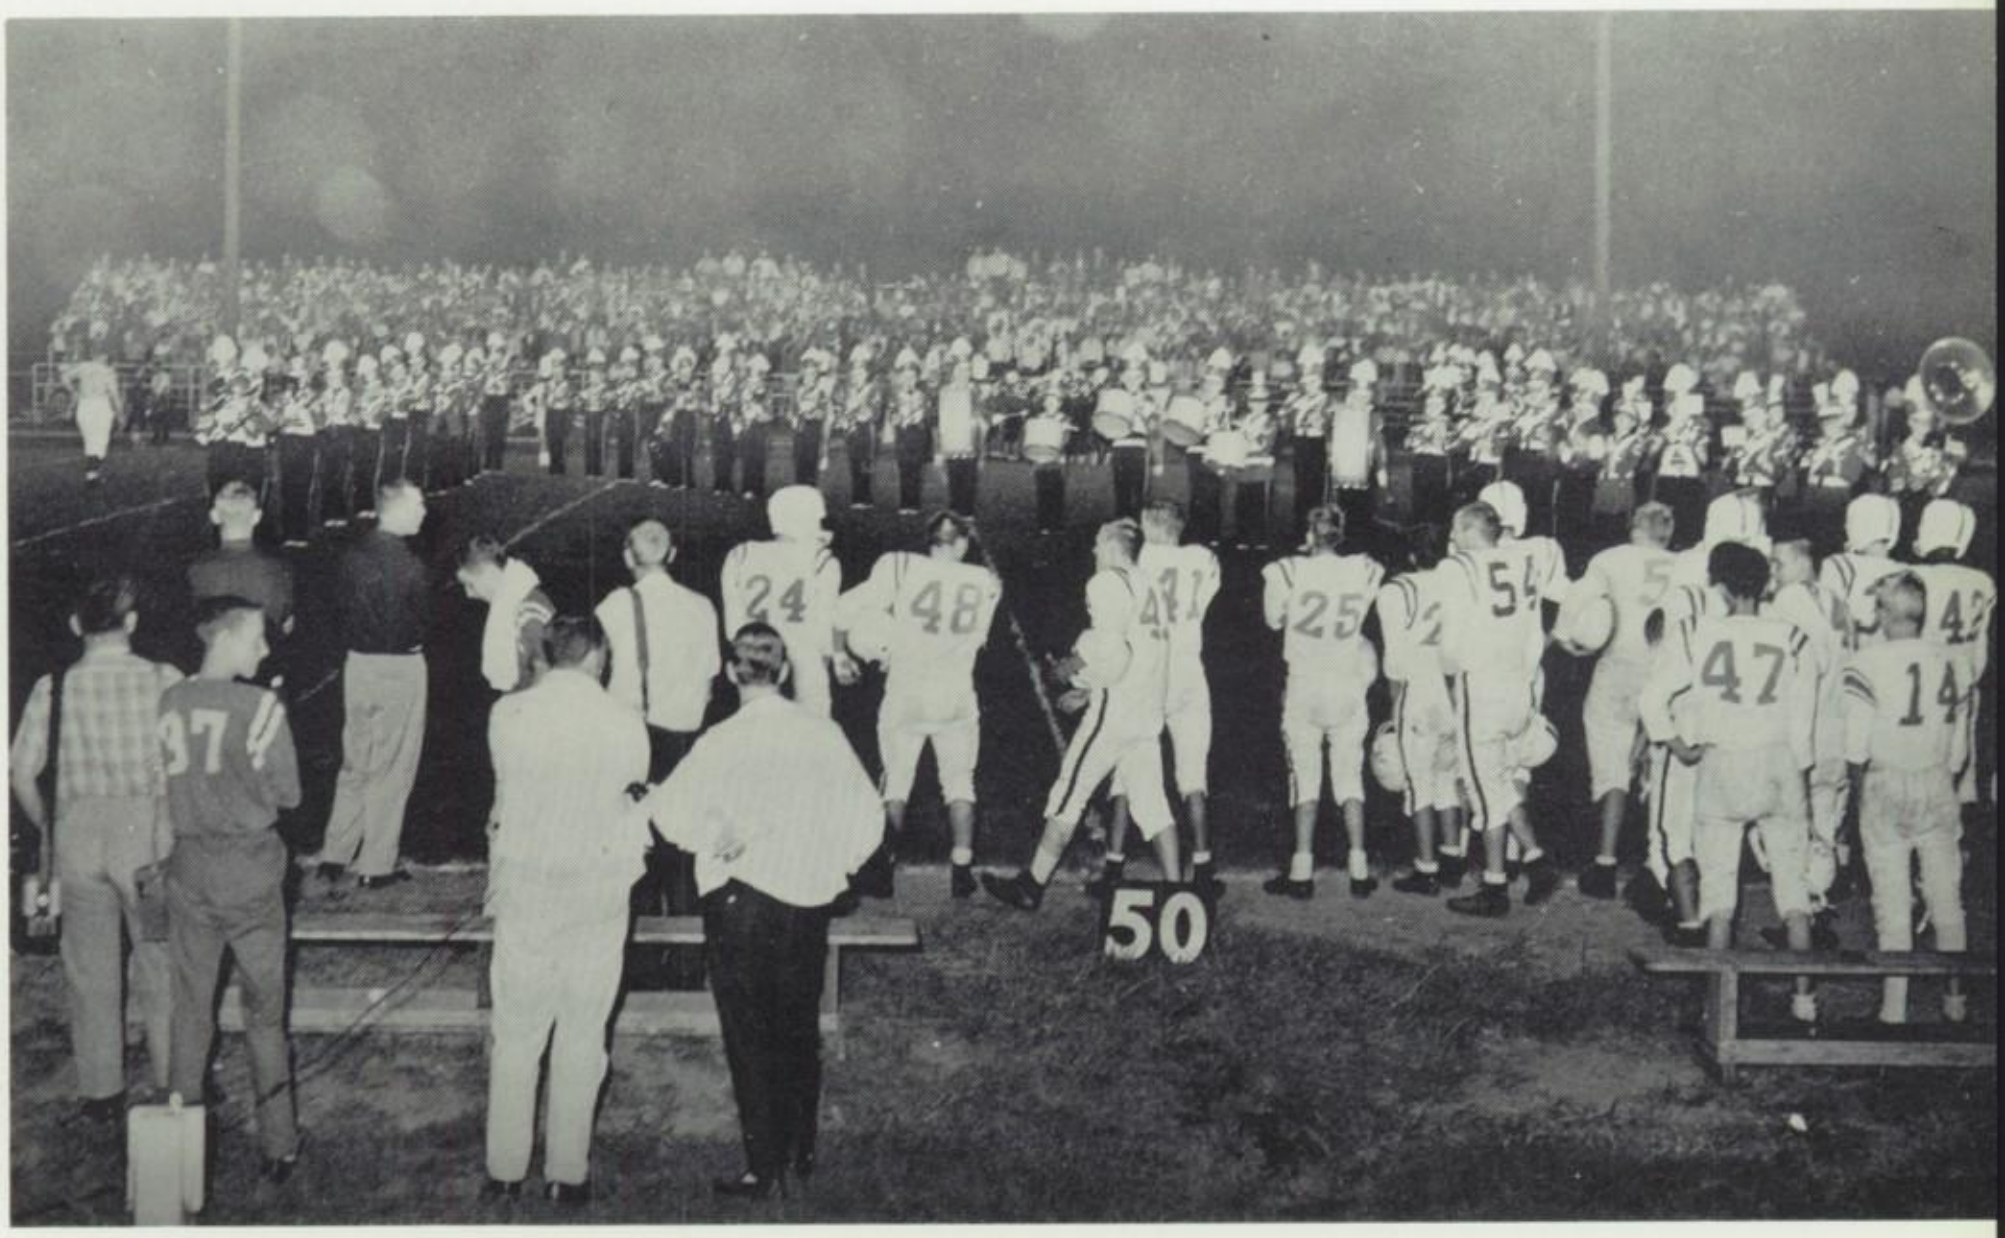
We Were Behind Our Trojans All The Way



Seniors Introduce

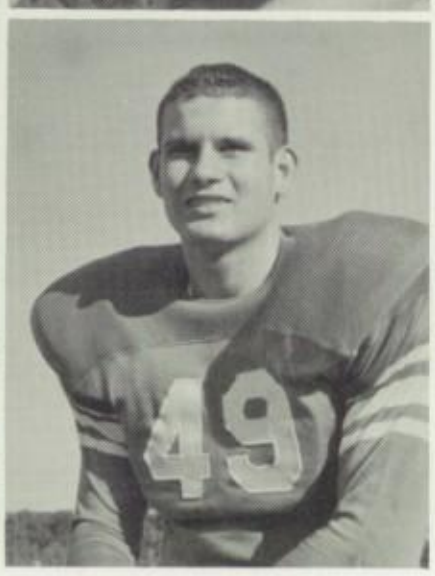
Don Parmley, holding one of the guard spots on defense, drove through the line time after time to throw the backs for losses.

Bill Baker, on offense, caught many passes from his end position. He also played defensive end, and was rough on the end sweeps.

Phil McBride, an outstanding fullback, made third string in the NCC. Phil was one of the hardest running conference backs.

Doug Redelman, the center of the line, was very valuable on offense. Regardless of the score, Doug fought to the last second.

Richard Byrd, an all around football player, held almost every position on the team. He was especially good at defensive halfback.



Ed Townsend, a fine guard on offense and a line backer on defense, helped the team with his never ending spirit and his tricky tactics.

New T-Offensive

Larry Turner, co-captain and guard, saw limited duty due to an injury. Larry completed three years of varsity football for NHS.

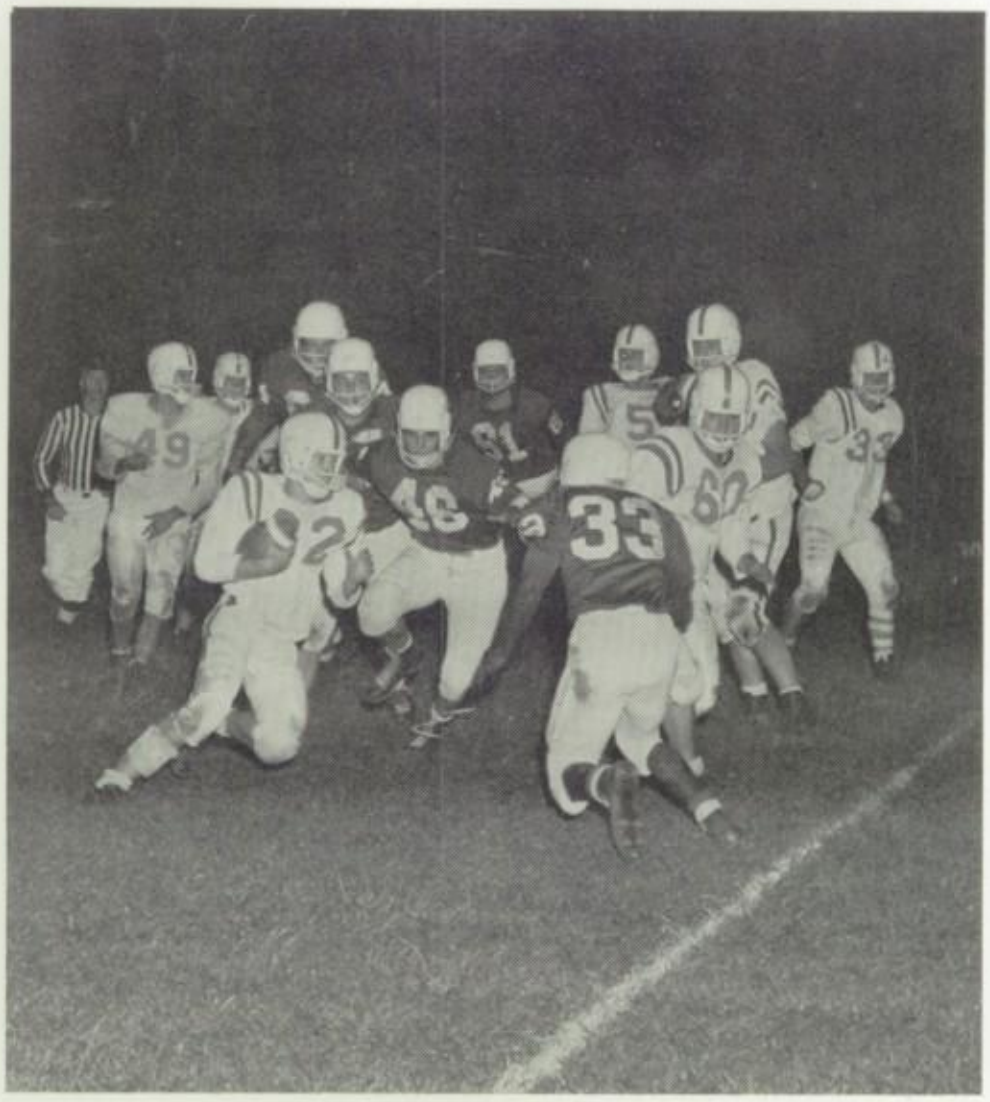
Mike Williams, co-captain and quarterback, played three years on the varsity team. Mike was also valuable at his safety spot on defense.

Duke Falck, playing his first year of varsity football, made honorable mention in the North Central Conference at right half.

Mike Fulton, the largest man on the team, tipped the scales at 235 pounds. He made large gaps in the line for the backfield.

Dave Luttrell, the shortest end in the state at five feet five, saw much action on defense and offense. Dave always picked up yardage.

Garvie Piercy, filling one of the tackle spots, was up against men much bigger than he, but he could move the biggest in the state.



Mike Owens, junior quarterback, cuts upfield after rounding end to pick up the necessary yardage for the first down.

The Trojan defensive line fights through a determined Marion offensive line to halt the onrushing backs. This Homecoming game in mid October was held in blistering heat on Saturday afternoon following the parade. Some of the floats from the parade are parked on the track in the background. The Trojans were defeated by Conference champs Marion.

Play First Homecoming Game

Statistically this year the Trojans beat almost all their opponents, but they wound up on the short end of the score six times for a 4-6 record. The gridders beat highly ranked Indianapolis Wood and Scecina and Madison Heights; they also won the Connersville game through a forfeit. The Troyland gridsters played outstanding football in the Logansport, Richmond, and Muncie Central games, but being short of man power relied on the "Fighting Fifteen."

Many teams throughout the season commented that the New Castle Trojans were one of the hardest hitting teams they had played. This fighting spirit was instilled in the boys by their coaches. Coaches Hay, Jones, and Razor spent many long hours working with the boys using the sleds and blocking dummies, practicing punting, and running through plays.

Mike Drane, Tech halfback, evades the New Castle line as Phil McBride closes in to make the tackle.

Curt Ervin, Muncie Central halfback, rounds the New Castle end as Leon Jones and Jon Williams prepare for the stop.

Managers Ed Vores, Skip Wiesmiller, and Tom Clements rest after a hard day's work of cleaning and reconditioning the equipment.

Team Perfects Smooth Running Attack

A new offense was used against Logansport in the final game this year and proved to be very successful. This offense, known as the Wing-T, may provide the Trojans' dream of a future winning season.

The squad will be hit hard by the graduation of senior co-captains Larry Turner and Mike Williams. Larry at guard and Mike at quarterback finished three years on the varsity. Other valuable seniors were Bill Baker and Dave Luttrell, ends; Mike Fulton and Garvie Piercy, tackles; Ed Townsend and Don Parmley, guards; Dick Byrd and Duke Falck, halfbacks; Doug Redelman, center; and Phil McBride, fullback.

After three lean years, Coach Elwood Wegesin directed the Trojan Colt team to its first win. They beat a very good Connersville team by the score of 18-0. The Colts lost five other games, but by close margins each time. They gained valuable experience from these games that should strengthen next year's varsity.

Jon Williams trips up a Muncie ball carrier as the Trojan secondary closes in to secure the tackle.

Woodward Sets Two Course Records

An already well-experienced team was trained by Mr. Wilbur Veach in his fourth year as cross country coach. The team, expecting to go to the State Meet, defeated Middletown, Connersville, and Rushville in dual meets but failed to qualify for the State due to stiff competition and an injury to Bruce Woodward, the team's top runner.

Leading the harriers were senior co-captains Spencer Bavender and Roy Garvin. Fox, Woodward, Arnold, Steele, Kenemer, and Brooks were their varsity teammates throughout the season. Bruce Woodward, junior, proved to be the top runner by setting a local course record of 10 minutes 12 seconds. The remaining runners all ran under eleven minutes sometime during the season. They placed seventh in the N. C. C. and seventh in the Sectional Meet.

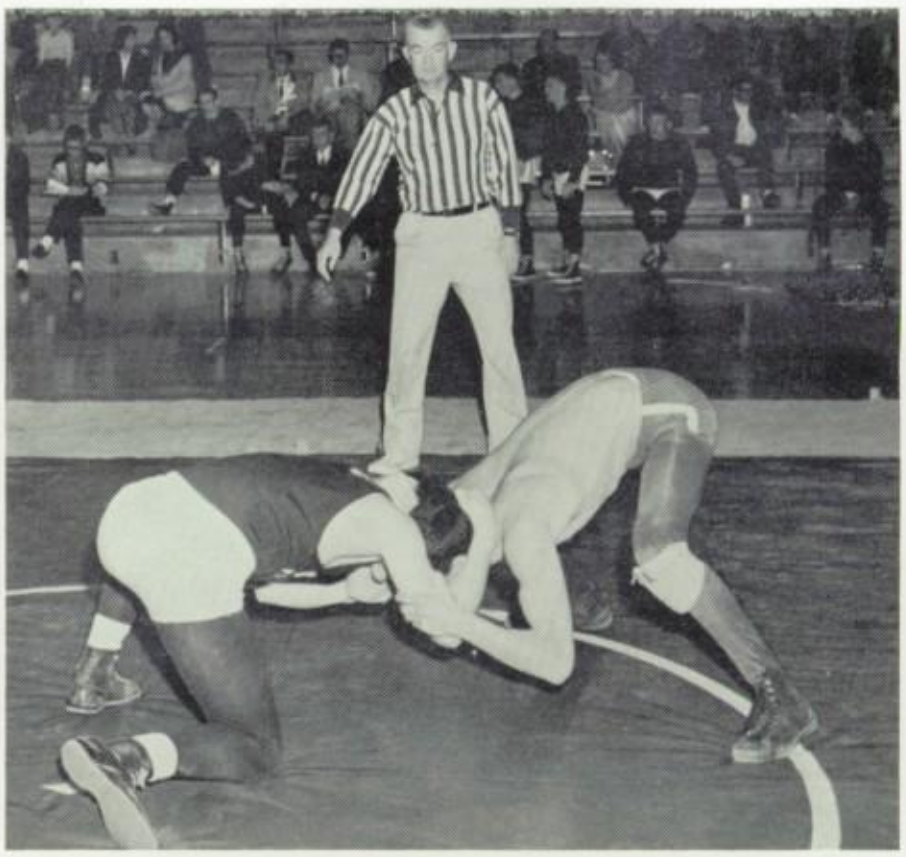
Spencer Bavender and Bruce Woodward fight to the finish in the grueling two-mile race.

Coach Veach directs his runners through their warm up before a home meet against Noblesville.

One of the best balanced varsity wrestling teams in recent years was coached by Curt Jones this year. The Trojan grapplers won four matches, lost eight, and tied the Richmond Red Devils. The team took sixth place in the Conference, sixth in the Sectional, thirteenth in the Regional, and seventeenth in the State.

Captain Garvie Piercy brought the first conference championship to Chrysler High. He also won the Sectional, took second place in the Regional, and received fourth place in the State. Jay Crask, a freshman, won third place in the Conference meet held here in New Castle, and Rick Lopez and Sam Laurie took fourth place honors. Sophomore Larry Hoff received a fourth in the local Sectional.

With a squad of returning underclassmen next year, the Trojan wrestlers should improve their record. Ed Townsend, Rick Lopez, and Garvie Piercy are the only graduating seniors.



Leon Jones and a Muncie Central rival battle it out in a Conference match held at the Fieldhouse as the referee watches close by.

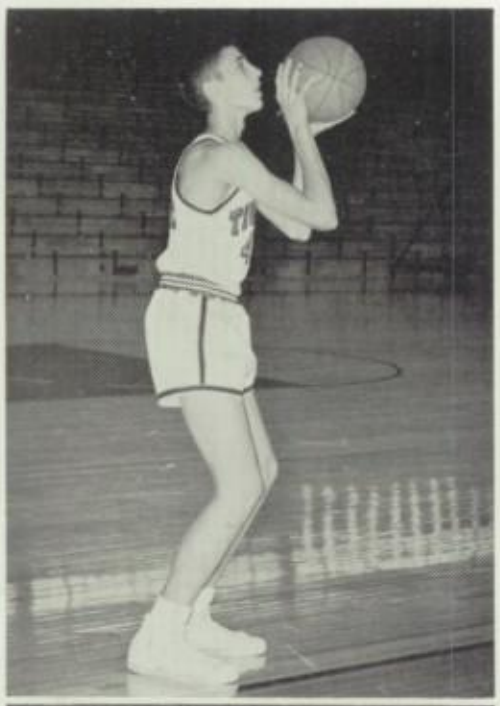
Seniors Lead Team's Balanced Attack



BUTCH JOYNER—Butch, a six foot sophomore member of the starting five, was a very fine and a much determined player. His aggressiveness added pep to the team. Everybody knew that he did his best at all times.

DOUG PADGETT—Doug, a senior starting forward, completed his second year of varsity play. Doug showed excellent shooting ability, rebounded well, and played a vital defensive game for Coach Ray's Trojans.

BILL BAKER—Bill, a senior center and co-captain of the team, displayed much desire and ability at his favorite spot. His "never give up" attitude helped him earn a starting position. Bill was the top scorer for the Trojans.

ROY GARVIN—Roy, a senior, started for the Trojans at one of the guard positions. His excellent defense and hustle helped the team in its running attack. This completed Roy's second year of varsity play.

JERRY BEGUHN—Jerry, a senior forward, was co-captain and starter for the team. At six foot, three he was the team's second leading scorer and his jumping ability enabled him to rebound with the best in the state.

TERRY TAYLOR—Terry, a senior, played guard or forward position and was the team's most accurate shooter. Terry worked hard and could always be counted on to relieve a starter. He completed two years on the varsity.

With Fast Break And Pattern Offense

SAM TAYLOR—Sam, a junior, played both varsity and B-Team basketball. He was the Colts' leading scorer and became a big help to the varsity near the end of the year. Sam should be a valuable man next year.

JOHN McIVER—John, a junior, was the team's smallest player. At his guard position, he played both varsity and B-Team. With the experience he gained this year, John should be a valuable asset to the 1962 varsity.

ERIC HARTER—Eric, a junior, rotated on the varsity and B-Team. He showed much desire and aggressiveness at all times. It was not uncommon for Eric to steal the ball from the opponents and add two points for the Trojans.

DALE YORK—Dale, a junior, gained valuable experience playing at the forward position on the B-Team and occasionally brought help to the varsity. Dale was a fine shooter from the baseline position, which he usually played.

GARY KOONTZ—Gary, a junior, played his first year of varsity ball. He was an excellent outside shooter and he used his 6 foot 3 inch frame well to grab off many rebounds. Gary was called on many times in a relief role.

MIKE BALES—Mike, a senior guard, finished his second year on the varsity team. Mike was used as a replacement and started in early games. He was a fine shooter, good ball handler, and drove well.

Varsity Breaks Even In Coach Les Ray's

Les Ray, making his first bid as coach for New Castle, led the Trojans to a record of 12 wins against 11 losses. The team had six returning lettermen, but none of the boys had much game experience. The inexperienced team lost five games to the top ten teams in the state and defeated Indianapolis Tech who ranked among the top ten. The Trojans ranked fifth in the North Central Conference.

The team lost many close battles, six of them by margins of less than eight points. Included in these was their final game in the Sectional when they went down in defeat to a strong Lewisville team by the score of 56 to 49. The Trojans led Kokomo, top ranking team in the state who later won the State Championship, until the final two minutes of the game and were defeated 58 to 51.

Bill Baker, Trojan center, jumps high into the air to control the tip for New Castle against Centerville.

Despite a broken hand, Jerry Beguhn, senior forward, attempts a free-throw after being fouled.

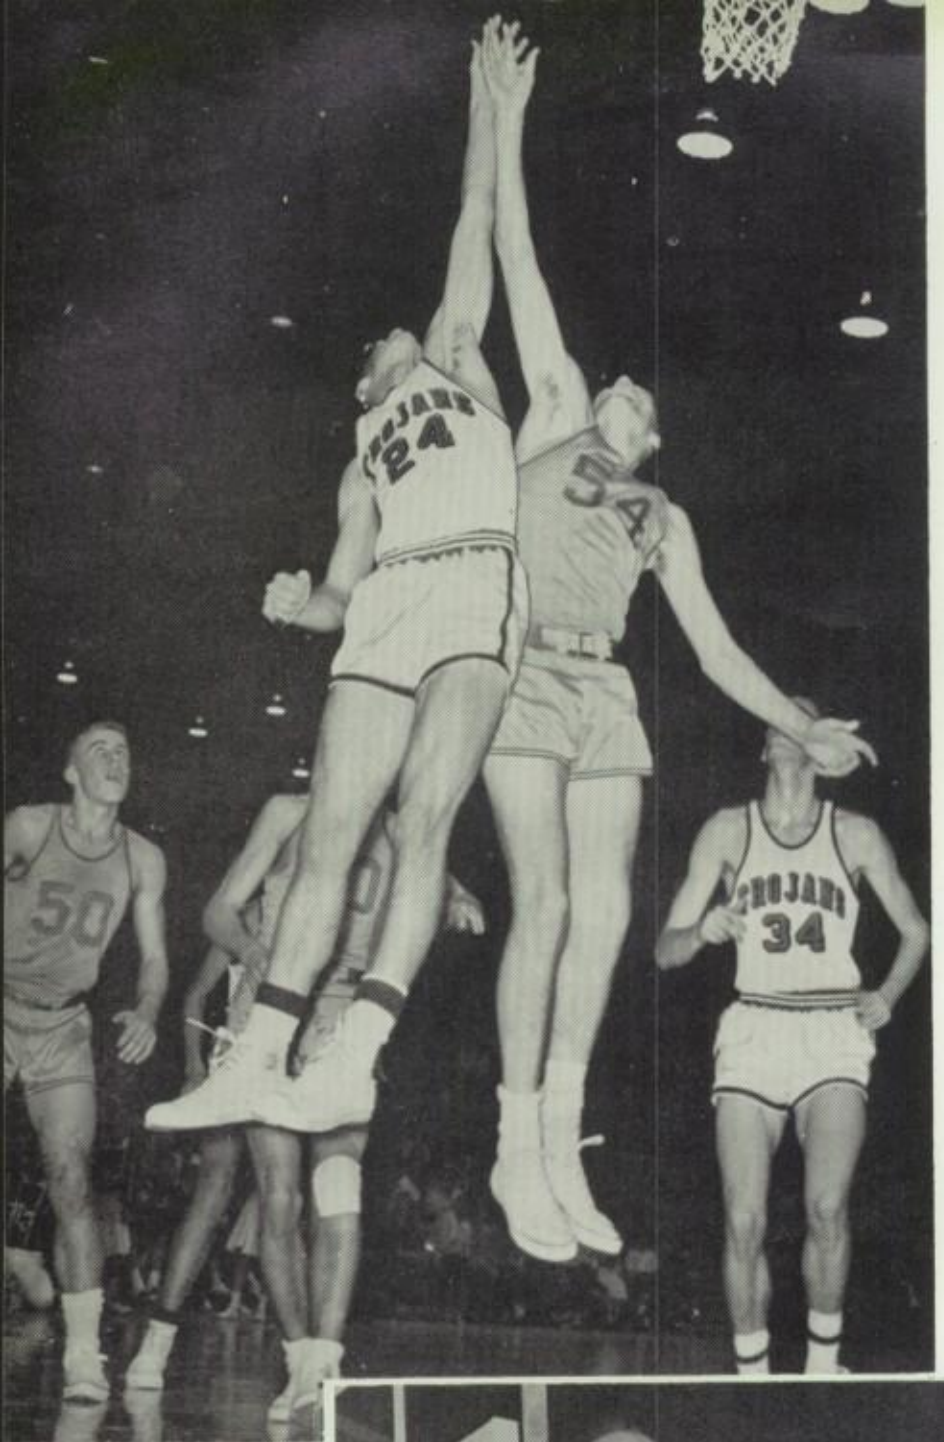
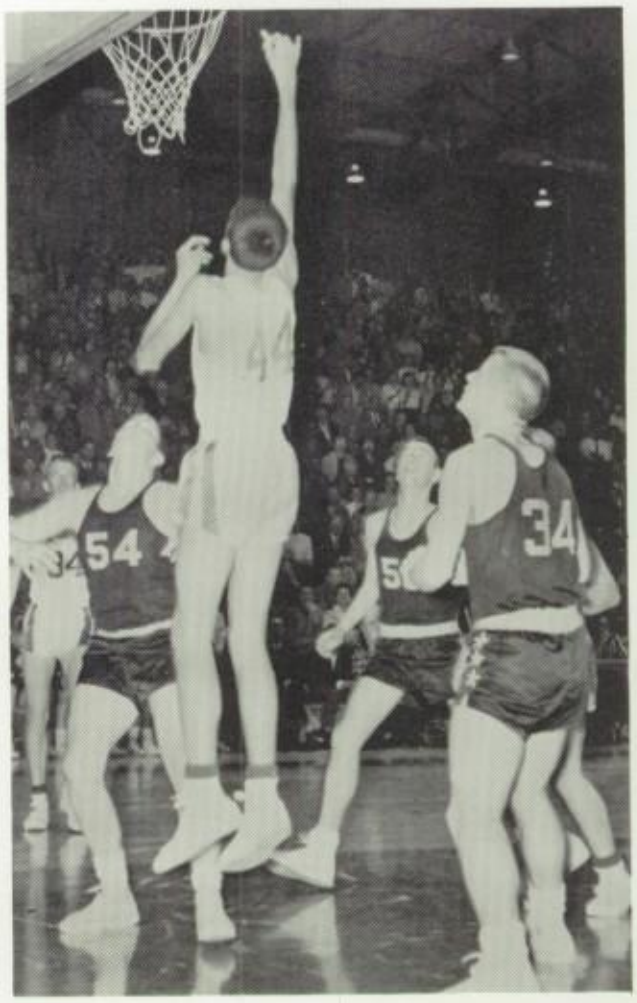
The six Varsity Cheerleaders included two boys — Kenny Cooper and Phil Gray — and four girls — Marsha Unger, Harleeta Teel, Samie Roberts, and Julie Bradway.

Colts Have 7-13 Season,

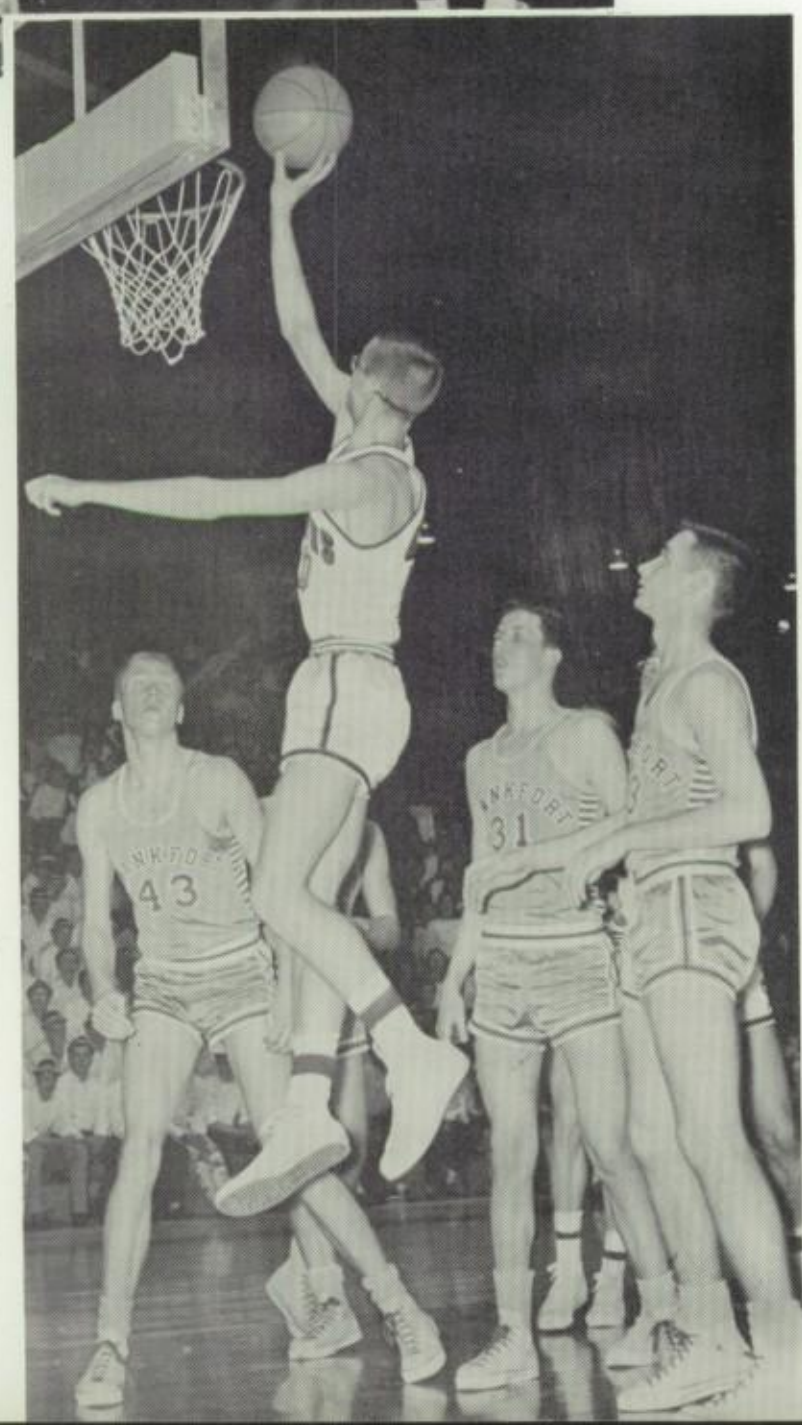


Bill Baker, Trojan center, uses good timing to tip the ball in an important NCC struggle with the Marion Giants.



Butch Joyner, sophomore guard, attempts a short jump shot after slipping around three Hartford City Airedales.

Gary Koontz, junior forward, goes high in the air to score as he outmaneuvers three tall Frankfort Hot Dogs.



The Trojans based their successful season on team balance and scoring depth. The starting five usually included four seniors and a sophomore. These were Jerry Beguhn, Bill Baker, and Doug Padgett on the front line and Roy Garvin and Butch Joyner in the backcourt. Backing up the first five were seniors Terry Taylor and Mike Bales, and juniors Gary Koontz, Sam Taylor, Eric Harter, Dale York, and John McIver.

The Trojan Colts under Coach Brooks got off to a good start with two straight wins but bogged down and had to employ the services of five juniors and five freshmen. With this new material, Coach Brooks molded a team which came on strong in the last few games of the season. The highlight of the season came with a close 38-34 victory over Muncie Central's highly regarded reserve team. Other close games were lost to Anderson and Kokomo.

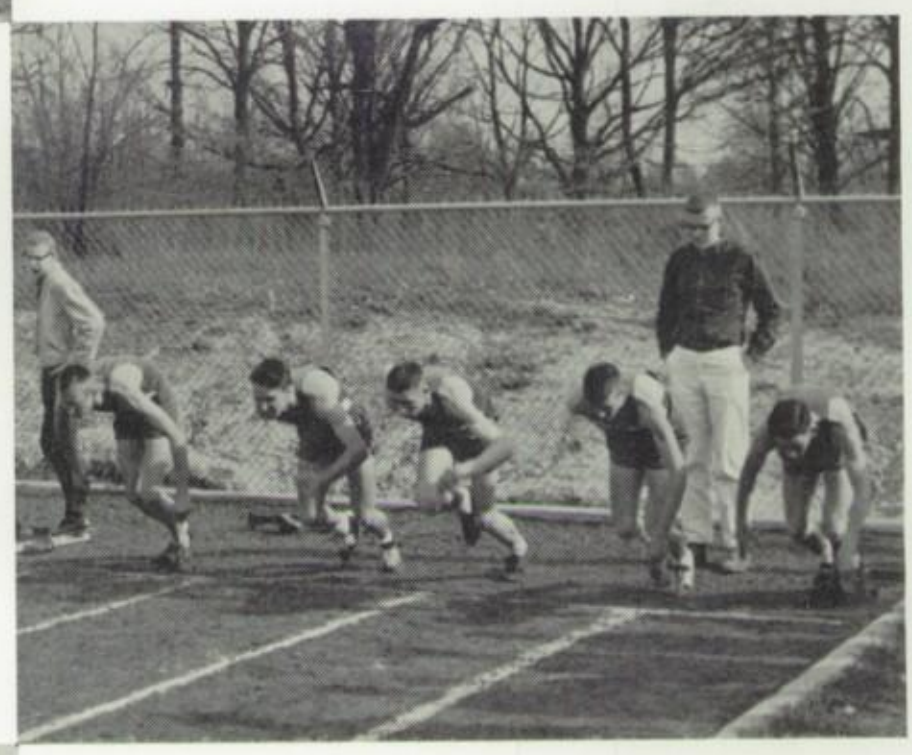
Capturing three dual meets during the season, the young, inexperienced cindermen pushed their opponents while gaining valuable experience. With two freshmen and eight sophomores scoring in varsity competition, the team showed great promise for the future.

As hosts to the N.C.C. meet, New Castle picked up an eighth place only five-tenths of a point behind the seventh spot. The cindermen placed second in the Noblesville Relays and took third in the State Sectional.

The team was led by senior co-captains Burke Show and Chuck Waltmire, who scored highly in each meet. Waltmire set a new track record in the 880 yard run.

The underclassmen, led in scoring by Duke Falck and Roy Garvin, were depended on in each meet. Freshmen Jon Williams and Billy Archey looked promising in the dashes along with sophomore Don Miller. Bruce Woodward, sophomore, also showed potential in the 880, running closely behind Waltmire in each meet.



Spencer Bavender saves his energy as he paces himself closely behind two opponents in the exhausting mile run.

Dick Byrd and Roy Garvin burst away from the starting line in the speedy 440 yard dash to pick up a first place.

Bruce Woodward shows the strain of a fast race as he leads in the first lap of the 880 yard run.

Trojans Seize First Conference Title,

Doug Padgett, Trojan shortstop, gets ready to step into an oncoming pitch. Timely hitting and superior fielding combined to give the team its first conference title.

Trojan centerfielder, Mike Williams, slides safely across home plate as the ball gets away from the opposing catcher, to give New Castle another important run.

New Castle captured its first N.C.C. baseball title while posting a brilliant record for the 1960 season. The Trojans, with a combination of seven lettermen and nine B-team graduates under the capable guidance of Coach Rex Brooks, finished the season with an over-all record of ten wins and two losses and a conference record of eight wins and one loss.

After breaking even in the first four games of the season, the Trojans won eight straight games, including seven straight against some of the finest high school baseball teams in the state. Both of the season's losses came at the hands of Anderson teams, Central and Madison Heights, by one run margins.

Leading the Trojan hitters at the plate were seniors, Homer Ziglar, Dan Sorrell, Mike Bowers, and Mel Powers; juniors Doug Padgett, Mike Williams, and David Laird; and sophomores Mike Marsh and Doug Sidwell.

The pitching mainstay was sophomore Mike Marsh with a record of 5-1, all in conference play. Also sharing the pitching duties were Dan Sorrell, 2-0; Jim Bailey, 2-0; and Monte Bennett, 1-1; all with one league victory. Included were three shutouts and a one-hitter.

Bill Baker, first baseman, holds a Royerton runner close to the bag as the Trojans take a non-conference victory, 8-0. New Castle's record was 2-1 against non-conference teams.

Finish With Brilliant 10-2 Record

B-Team members under Coach Elwood Wegesin were: Front row A. Piercey, T. Nicholson, P. Brown, L. Troxell, R. Bell. Second row — R. Davis, D. Planeaux, C. Shively, S. Paul, D. Shelton, L. Cross, C. Critser. Back row — S. Arnold, C. Redman, M. Goodman, A. Phelps, P. Christenson, M. Adkins, D. Crum, Coach Wegesin.

Rick Lopez opens a crucial conference match with a hard serve which proves difficult for his opponent to handle. Rick went on to win this set.

Tennis Squad Improves On First Record

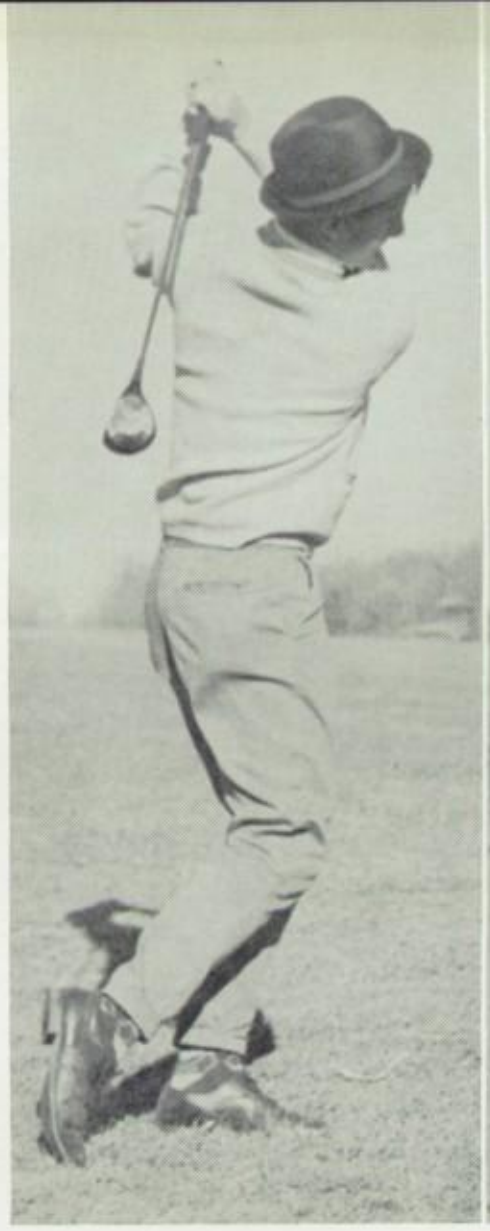
The tennis team showed much improvement in its second season and was led by six returning lettermen who gained a great amount of experience last year. These boys were seniors John Trittschuh, Phil Stinson, Mike Jackson, and Dave Logan, and juniors Mike Dalton and Bill Corbin.

Although the Trojans failed to win a conference match in the always strong N.C.C., they took three non-conference matches, defeating Hartford City once and Centerville twice. This was a distinct improvement over last year's winless season.

Because tennis is a new sport on the local scene, it probably will take several years before it reaches the caliber of the older sports. This year's team, on new courts at Baker Park, should have a more successful season.

Bill Corbin returns a volley against a conference foe as John Griffin stands ready to help.

Mike Dalton and Rick Lopez combine in a doubles match to provide the team with a win over Centerville.



Jerry Koger, freshman golfer, tees off to open a conference meet which ended in a victory for Coach Hay's successful team.

Jim Childs ignores the pressure surrounding him, as he drops in a putt to help the Trojans stay undefeated in conference play.

An always strong golf team upheld tradition well by posting a 6-3-1 record last spring. Led by seniors Bill Fisher, Joe Davis, John Lee, Bill Hunnicutt, and an outstanding freshman, Jerry Koger, the team won over Richmond, Anderson Highland, Kokomo, Madison Heights, Marion, and arch rival Muncie Central twice.

The golfers placed second in the North Central Conference meet held at Grandview Golf Course in Richmond. Just behind Kokomo, one of the leading golf powers in the state, the Trojans beat third place Richmond by one stroke. The team qualified in the sectional meet held at Anderson, and the following week they traveled to Indianapolis to play in the state meet. The linksmen placed sixteenth out of eighteen teams.

The B-Team completed an undefeated season with a win over Richmond. Golfers earning junior varsity letters were Jim Childs, Mike Bales, Larry Stohler, Don Vivian, and Mike Fadely. These boys were expected to spark the golf team to the state meet this spring.
